Mourning Begins

Thousands View Pope Pius' Body; Burial Monday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A silent, endless river of humanity flowed today through St. Peter's Basilica and around the body of Pope Pius XII, his face austere and peaceful in death.

The pontiff, clad in the robes in which he will be buried on Monday, lay directly under the great cupola and above the tomb of his predecessor, St. Peter.

The side doors of the basilica opened at dawn. The long procession began. Men, women and children entered doors at the right and moved across slowly, shoulder to shoulder, held within borders by wooden stands.

They moved with sounds of shuffling and whispered words.

They turned silently to look at the patrician countenance they had known so long and that now was waxen and still, a golden bishop's miter on the head.

Some wept. Many crossed themselves.

The red-silk covered feet stood out, slightly angled, in what appeared to be over-large slippers. Twenty-four candles cast a golden glow on the Pope, slightly inclined on a six-foot high catafalque so that his lean face was higher and clearly visible.

By noon, hundreds of thousands, moving in a 20-foot-wide solid stream, had already passed by the Pope.

The Pope's body had been brought to the Vatican Friday night from the papal summer palace at Castel Gandolfo, 18 miles away in the Alban Hills, where he died at 82 Thursday.

Meeting in Vatican quarters across St. Peter's Square, a group of 16 cardinals made further arrangements today for the funeral of Pope Pius and the choice of his successor.

The Vatican announced these decisions:

The Roman Catholic Church's 261st pontiff will be buried beneath the basilica in funeral services starting at 4 p.m. Monday, Oct. 13. The services will last about an hour and a half.

The secret conclave of the College of Cardinals to elect the 262nd Pope will begin at 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 25. Most of the church's 55 cardinals are expected to attend.

The election will be held behind locked doors of the Vatican's Sistine Chapel. The Cardinals may choose the new pontiff from among their own number, or perhaps select a prelate who is not

Ike Heading For Political Firing Line

Nation Rebounding From Recession, President Contents

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower is heading for the political firing line next week contending the country is rebounding from the recession and can look forward to continued recovery.

The President, spending a week-end at his Catocin Mountain Lodge near here, Friday hailed a new government report on the job situation.

The Commerce and Labor departments said unemployment decreased by 588,000 last month—a more-than-usual drop for September. They also reported more jobs were opening up in durable goods plants that were hard hit by the recession.

In a statement with political overtones, Eisenhower said the figures are evidence of an "accelerating rate of recovery." Without spelling them out, he said "there are also good reasons for expecting a continuing recovery in our economy during the months ahead."

The President undoubtedly spoke with an awareness that the Democrats are trying to capitalize on issues that touch the private purse during the congressional election campaign. He said it is "noteworthy that the improvement in employment conditions ... has been accomplished while the cost of living has been virtually stable."

Vice President Nixon is also enthused over the latest job report. He said an increase in manufacturing employment shows "we are on the way to the record employment we all want for America's wage earners."

Speaking at a Republican rally in Pittsburgh, Nixon said "We have pulled out of the recession, are having a good year in 1958 and are on the way to the best year in our history in 1959."

However, AFL-CIO President George Meany said in Washington the new unemployment figures "represent modest improvement at best."

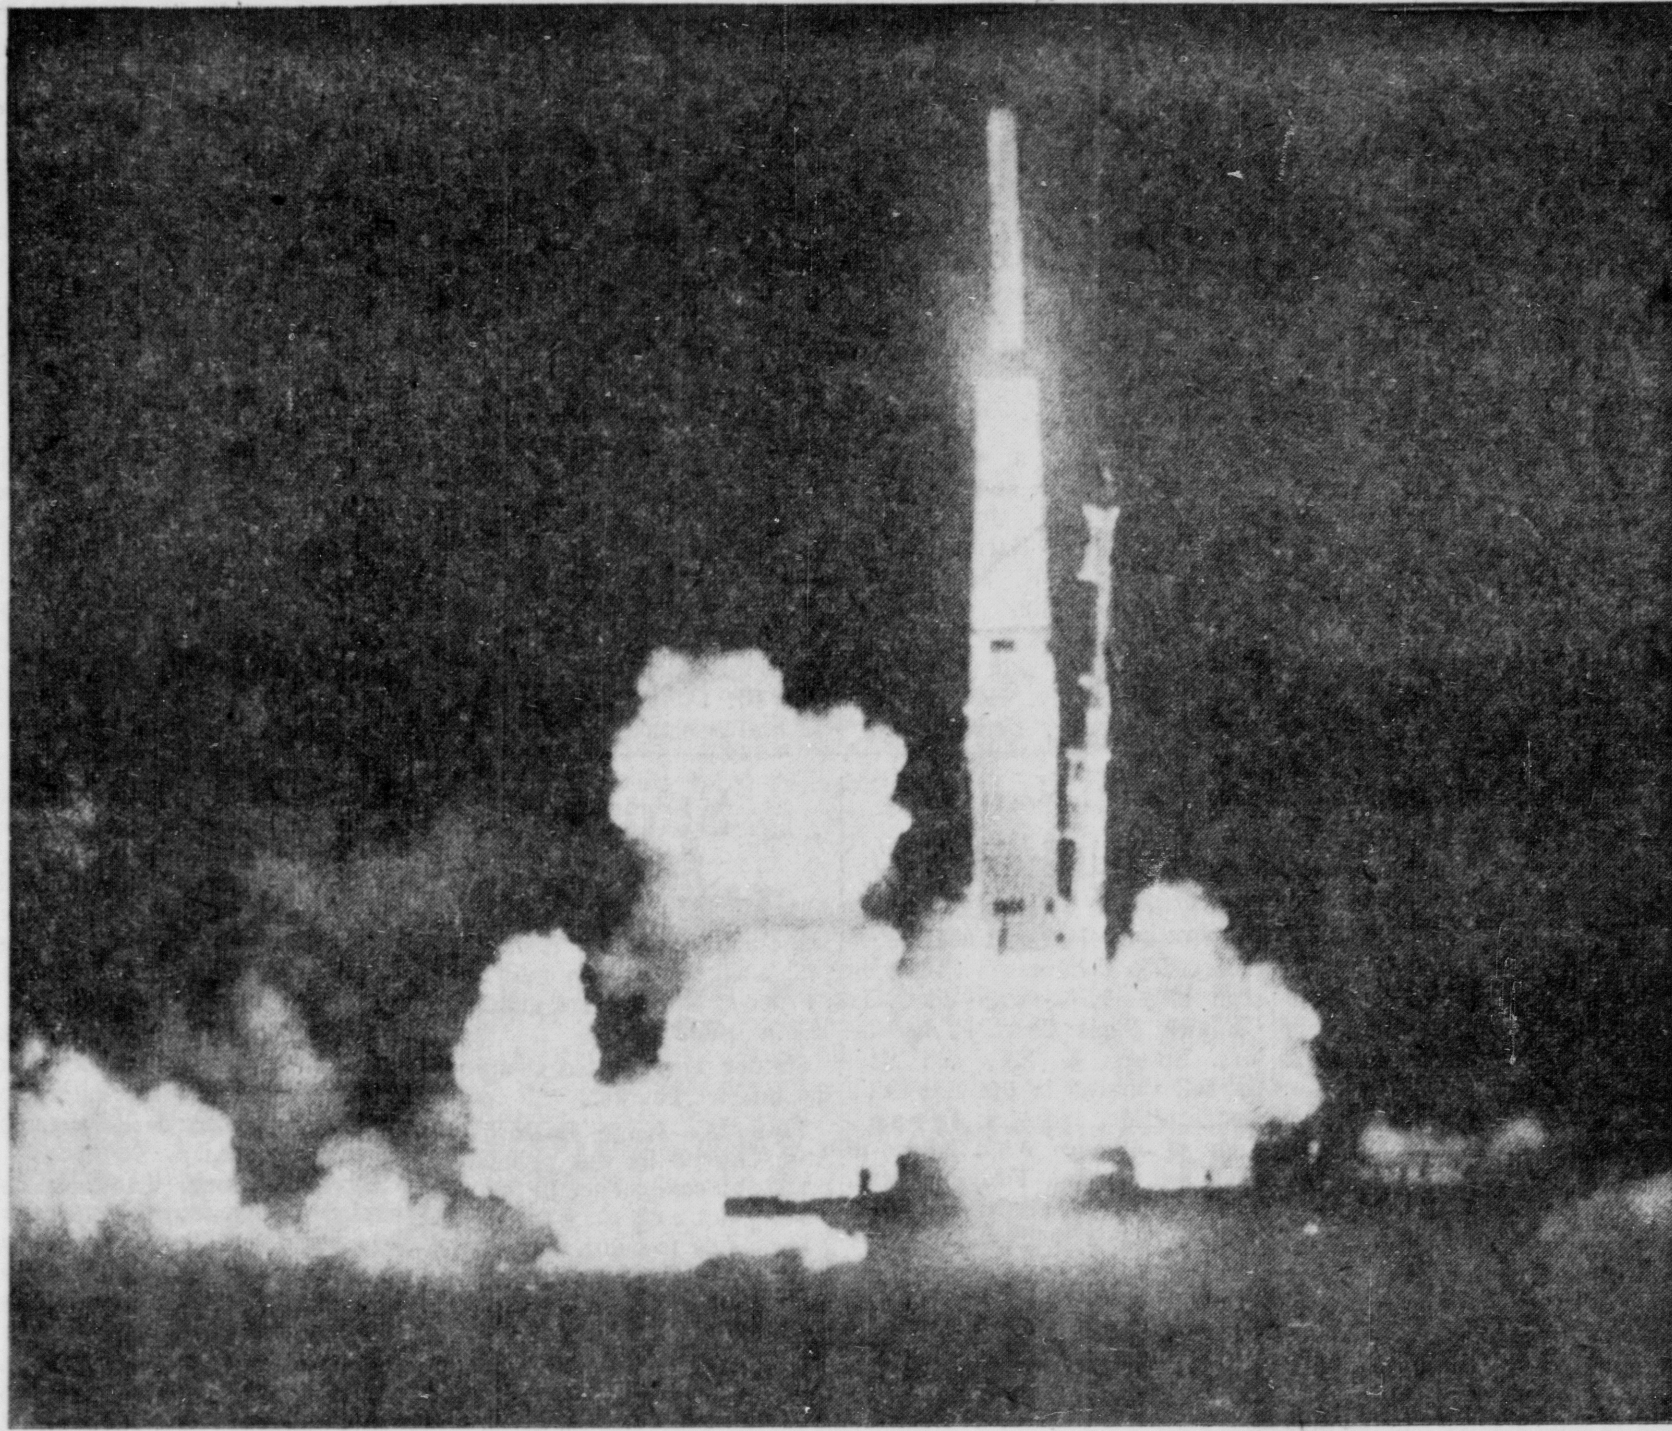

"More than four million jobless Americans need something better than political statements of satisfaction," Meany said.

In Minot, N.D., former President Harry S. Truman made no mention of the new job report in telling a Democratic rally the Republicans were responsible for high unemployment. He also said the GOP caused high prices, high taxes and high interest rates.

Republican campaign strategists in Washington voiced belief the improved job picture should give a lift to GOP candidates in such industrial states as Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Sunday Eisenhower is flying to New York to speak at Columbus Day and church ceremonies—and to confer with New York Republican candidates. He plans to return to Washington Sunday night.

Tuesday is the President's 68th birthday. On Friday Eisenhower hops off to Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Slight Hope Seen For Ban On 'A' Tests

U.S., Russia Sharply Split In First Round Of Debate In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The first round of the U.N. arms debate showed the United States and the Soviet Union so sharply split that diplomats saw little hope today of agreement on suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

So diametrically opposed were the two big powers that observers predicted a dark future for the Big Three negotiations that are to begin in Geneva on Oct. 31 on a test ban.

The United States, in the debate Friday, declared it would suspend tests indefinitely, provided there is a reasonable year-to-year progress in other fields of disarmament.

Russia insisted she would agree to halt the tests only if the United States and Britain accepted an immediate ban for "all time."

The United States followed up its position by introducing its resolution Friday night for suspension of tests during the Geneva talks.

Neither the text nor the sponsorship was disclosed officially, but informed delegates said there were 17 sponsors, including the United States.

He listed the others as Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Britain, Canada, Denmark, Ecuador, Iran, Italy, Laos, Luxembourg, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan and Thailand.

HEADED TOWARD MOON. The Lunar probe missile named "Pioneer" is shown as it leaves its launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The rocket, the Air Force said, should be within 50,000 miles of the moon by Monday afternoon "if everything goes well." (UPI Telephoto)

Moon Rocket In Space

Global Tracking System In Action

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A worldwide tracking system swung into feverish action today as the moon rocket shot into space.

Picking up signals from the moon-bound missile's powerful transmitter, far-flung stations relayed the information to an awesomely complex data reduction center in Inglewood.

From the center is coming the world's first lunar travelogue. The hub of the tracking network is operated by the Air Force ballistic missile division.

Its ears are ground tracking stations at Manchester, England; Singapore; Hawaii; Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., and Millstone Mountain, N. H., and nine widely scattered minitrack stations of the Naval Research Laboratory.

The Hawaii and Singapore stations were built especially for this project. The Manchester station uses the huge radar telescope at Jodrell Banks which recently tracked the Vanguard satellite at distances up to 2,500 miles.

These ground stations are receiving telemetry data from the rocket. They record it on magnetic tape. Information on the missile's position is transmitted to the Inglewood headquarters. Tape data will be sent by plane.

A 40-member team headed by Lt. Col. Donald Latham and Dr. G. E. Mueller mans the Data Reduction Center of Space Technological Laboratories here.

As the messages come in from the tracking stations, mathematicians take the individual reports, convert the various time designations to a standard figure and check for errors in transmission. Then the figures are transferred to computer punch cards.

Now the lightning-fast IBM electronic digital computer takes over. It is the heart of the entire operation.

It digests the facts and figures and produces the answers in rows of figures.

These figures tell the experts where the rocket is in relation to earth and moon.

The data center has two-way contact with each of the five principal stations. These points communicate with each other by conference calls.

The Naval Laboratory's minitrack stations are at Ancon, Peru; Antigua, Leeward Islands; Antofagasta, Chile; Cotopaxi, Ecuador; Grand Turk, Bahamas; Johannesburg, South Africa; San Antonio, Cuba; Havana, Cuba; Woomera, Australia, and Santiago, Chile.

They transmit their reports to the Air Force Missile Test Center, Cape Canaveral, Fla. The information is relayed to Inglewood.

Judge Rejects Stuttler Move To Get 'Print'

Finger Mark Found 4 Years After Theft Sought By Defense

A move by Louis Stuttler, ex-policeman, to study fingerprint records related to his approaching trial for burglary, was rejected Friday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lisbon.

Atty. Samuel Chertoff, counsel for Stuttler, requested permission to inspect the evidence held by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw in the case in which the former officer is charged with the 1954 entering of the Burbick Hardware Store.

Prosecutor Brokaw said the defense had asked for and received a bill of particulars in the case, and that the material which it now seeks was available from sources other than his office.

Atty. Chertoff said he understands the prosecutor's office has a latent print found at the store four years after the alleged entering.

Stuttler is one of three former officers and a onetime special officer seeking to have seven other burglary indictments dismissed.

World's First Lunar Probe Out In Space

'Pioneer' Missile Could Be Near Its Destination Monday

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The moon rocket Pioneer was about 45,000 miles out in space at 9:47 a. m. EST, today, government scientists estimated officially.

The announcement also said it appeared, from data being received, that the rocket "may be departing from the intended trajectory."

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The world's first lunar probe today apparently took off slightly slower than anticipated but the rocket payload is moving out in space toward the moon.

The men who launched the moon rocket told a news conference more than two hours after the shoot that data received from the instruments aboard was still too limited to permit any accurate estimates of the lunar probe's altitude and speed.

The rocket was spinning through space at some 25,000 m.p.h. after its dramatic launching at 4:42 a.m.

In Washington, the Defense Department announced that if the lunar probe should attain a desired orbit around the moon—and it will not be known for some time whether this will be achieved—the satellite would stay within 40,000 miles of the moon for at least seven days.

The department also said that it is theoretically possible that the satellite might actually strike the surface of the moon or even pass beyond the influence of the moon's gravity and go out into outer space beyond the range of earth tracking stations.

It was disclosed for the first time that instruments carried by the satellite include one for measuring the intensity of radiation during flight from the earth to the moon.

Inclusion of these instruments experiment was prompted partly by the recent discovery of a potentially dangerous band of radiation beginning about 600 miles above the earth and continuing on out to an as yet undetermined altitude.

At a news conference Dr. Louis Dunn, president of Space Technology Laboratories, Los Angeles, which developed the lunar probe, said there were some indications that the launching speeds had been slightly lower than were scheduled.

He said the first stage appeared to have "programmed" — started curving on its trajectory to the northeast—higher than it should have.

However, the launching was considered a great success because the stages all fired in proper sequence at full thrust, and the payload of instruments in the nose soared into space.

If all goes well, the missile should approach within 50,000 miles of the moon some time Monday afternoon.

The instrument packed nose cone was described by the defense Department in a statement as "the most sophisticated man-made fact-finding device ever thrust into the heavens."

Within the fiber-glass shell are 30 pounds of instruments designed to:

1. Collect and relay information on the magnetic fields of the earth and the moon.
2. Record the number of micrometeorites it encounters.
3. Measure radiation intensity during flight from the earth to the moon.
4. Determine internal temperature inside the satellite during flight.

5. Obtain a crude electronic picture of the surface of the moon. It carried too, television scanning equipment to gathering data on the hidden far side of the moon.

Dr. Robert Bennett, director of electronics for the program, said that if the lunar probes does go

Polio Claims 19th Victim In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit area polio epidemic has claimed two more lives to bring the total for the year thus far to 19. Detroit has recorded 561 cases so far this year, compared to 174 in the same 1957 period.

Area Woman's Auto Creates Chester 'Stir'

Station Wagon Hits Cruiser, Building, Shifts Barbershop

A station wagon driven by a Calcutta area woman rammed the Chester police cruiser, caromed into the front of the Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Co. building then struck a small frame barbershop in Chester Friday afternoon about 4.

A pedestrian narrowly missed injury as the car swerved over the sidewalk, knocking a large mail box about 15 feet and moved the barbershop about two inches off its foundation.

Mrs. Pauline Lough, 50, of near Calcutta suffered a cut of the forehead when her 1953 vehicle hit the halted cruiser and veered off the street after she apparently stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake pedal on Carolina Ave. near 3rd St.

The cruiser was driven by Special Officer Audley Campbell who had stopped, headed east, to make a left turn into the Temple square station.

Mrs. Lough's car, also headed east, hit the right rear of the cruiser, then veered over the curb, hitting the large mail box crossing the sidewalk and striking the savings and loan building and continued east along the sidewalk, finally smashing into the small frame barbershop.

The mail box was hurled nearly 25 yards by the impact, landing east of the barbershop. Three granite facing blocks of the savings firm building were damaged, along with loosening of plaster on the ceiling inside the structure, and about 10 feet of spouting was torn away from one corner.

The barbershop, operated by

Fine Of $100 Halved For Numbers Writer

A city man was fined $100 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge filed by Police Lt. Clyde Boso, accusing him of writing numbers.

Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp suspended $50 of the fine against Peter Cotsonis, 137 W. 4th St., pending good behavior.

Cotsonis was arrested Friday on Dresden Ave. by Lt. Boso. The charge alleged Cotsonis "did sell, vend, and dispose of a numbers slip representing a number of shares or interest in a scheme of chance better known as the 'numbers game'."

Cotsonis pleaded innocent when first arraigned before Judge Kapp, who set his bond at $500 for a hearing Tuesday. He later returned to court, switched his plea to guilty and was fined.

Strike Shuts 2 Major Auto Glass Firms

27,000 Workers Quit After No New Offer By Concerns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the nation's major producers of auto glass were shut down today as some 27,000 glassworkers at 11 Pittsburgh Plate Glass plants and seven Libbey-Owens-Ford plants struck Friday. A noon deadline passed without an offer from the companies to resume negotiations.

Louis McCracken, union secretary, said. The union has its international headquarters in Columbus. Negotiations on a new contract broke off earlier this month in Miami, Fla. The company and union are reported to be nowhere near a settlement on issues that include job classification and security.

Some of the plants involved began striking earlier this week. Three PPG plants at Creighton, Pa., and three at Ford City, Pa., shut down Monday. They employ a total of 5,000 workers.

Three Toledo, Ohio, area L-O-F plants employing 6,000 workers went on strike Tuesday.

Joining the strike Friday were workers at PPG plants at Crystal City, Mo.; Cumberland, Md.; Henryetta, Okla.; Mount Vernon, Ohio; and Clarksburg, W. Va.; two L-O-F plants at Ottawa, Ill., and single plants at Shreveport, La., and Charleston, W. Va.

Juvenile Receiving Home Waits Vote Decision Nov. 4

Columbiana County residents will vote Nov. 4 on a proposed $125,000 bond issue for a juvenile receiving home depicted in the accompanying architect's sketch.

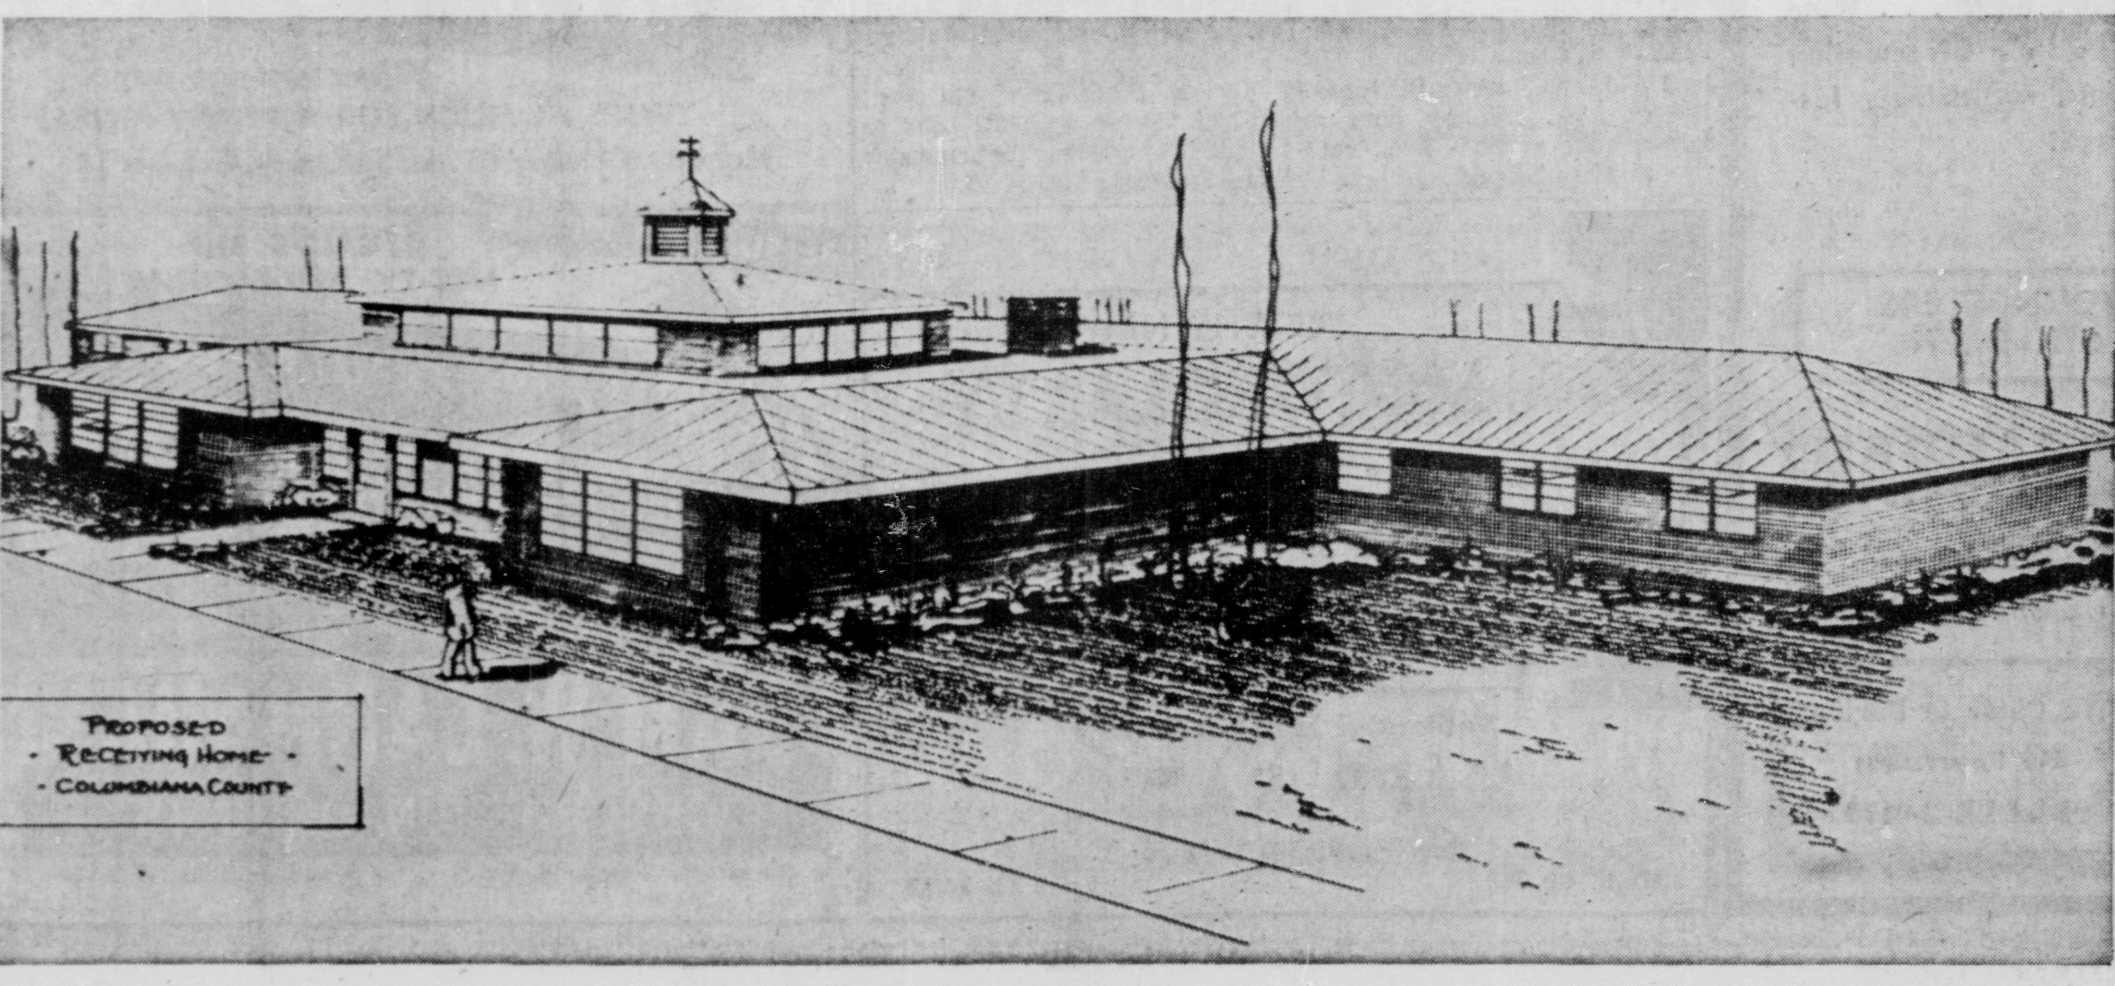

The one-story brick structure, to be built on county property near the County Home west of Lisbon, would provide temporary quarters for young people in the custody of Juvenile Court or the Welfare Department.

The fireproof building would include quarters for at least 10 boys and 10 girls, day rooms, lounge area, diningroom and kitchen and quarters for attendants, along with a small infirmary, isolation room and nurses' room.

The facilities are designed for children ranging from infants through 18 years old. Plans call for a red brick exterior, glazed tile interior and tile floor. An estimate by Bricker & Bricker Co. of Salem places the cost at $118,000 without any equipment, well, pump, driveway, landscaping or architect's fees.

Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, prepared the sketch. The

Deaths and Funerals

Week Illness Claims Child

Rites To Be Monday For Robert Brewer

Robert Michael Brewer, 4½-month-old son of Robert and Nancy Wain Brewer, 1249 Ohio View Dr., Ohio View, died Friday at 4:45 p. m. at the Rochester Hospital after a week's illness.

He was born May 19 in Rochester. He is survived by his parents and a sister, Robin Brewer at home; paternal grandmother Mrs. Alice Brewer of Rochester; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nile Wain of Midland, and maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Jane B. High of Ohio View.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Ohio View Lutheran Church by the Rev. James Servan. Burial will be in Sylvania Hills Cemetery.

Friends will be received from 7 to 9 tonight, 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Sunday and from noon to 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Schwerha Funeral Home in Midland.

Omar Ankrom

Services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Altmeier Funeral Home in Wheeling for Omar R. Ankrom, 62, who died Thursday at the Oakland Veterans Hospital at Pittsburgh.

Burial will be in Short Creek Cemetery near Wheeling. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ankrom, and a brother, Charles Ankrom, all of East Liverpool.

Bond Issue

Plans call for utilization only of the area required by a fluctuating population, so that unused areas can be shut off for economy of operation. Future expansion is also possible at a minimum expense, commissioners said.

County commissioners have slated $50,000 from the sale of the county's share of the Fairmont Children's Home for the completion of the receiving home project.

75 Hear CBMC's California Guest

Seventy-five heard Harry R. Smith of Menlo Park, Calif., speak on "How to Get Out of Debt" at a banquet of the Christian Business Men's Committee Friday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Smith is a vice president of the Bank of America—world's largest financial institution—and a vice chairman of CBMC International. Shown at the dinner are, left to right, Mrs. Robert Metcalfe, Mrs. Harry Smith, Smith, William H. Smith and Mrs. William Smith.

Smith compared the debts of sinners to God with being in debt financially. He was introduced by Dr. Derwin Dimmerling. Smith is en route to Philadelphia to attend the International CBMC convention next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe sang a duet. A quartet of CBMC members, Emmett Gaston, Thurman Allen, Harold Hardy and Dr. Dimmerling, also sang several selections.

$400,000 Sought For Deaths Of 2

LISBON — Two suits totaling $400,000 — the largest amount ever recorded in the Columbiana County in such litigation — were filed in Common Pleas Court Friday by Mrs. Rosetta K. May and Mrs. Gaynell Christine in the traffic deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eddy of Alliance and injury to their son, Joseph Eddy Jr., two years ago. Eli A. Stutzman of New Philadelphia is defendant.

Mrs. May, of Alliance, administratrix of the estate of Mrs. Emma Eddy, seeks $250,000 and Mrs. Christine, of Canton, administratrix of the estate of Eddy, asks $150,000.

They claim the Eddy car was struck by Stutzman's truck on Route 9 on Nov. 16, 1956.

They allege the trucker was traveling at an excessive speed, did not have the vehicle under control and was negligent.

Ohio Township

The Ohio Township volunteer fire department auxiliary held its anniversary dinner in Beaver Falls Thursday evening. Brief business followed.

Mrs. Amedeo Ulizio, vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Lois Haydin, president.

A "cookie exchange" will highlight the next meeting Nov. 13 at the home of Mrs. May Wolfe of Fairview. Members are to bring two dozen home-baked cookies.

The Ladies Christian Service Group of the Fairview Reformed Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Uhlend Nida of Fairview Tuesday night.

Mrs. Nida, president, presided. Mrs. Fred Sams read verses of Scripture following brief business and a question-and-answer period was held on Bible study.

It was decided to hold future meetings in the church with the time changed from 8:30 to 8 p. m. The next is Nov. 13.

Mrs. Ella Wolfe of Fairview entertained the Missionary Society of the New Salem United Presbyterian Church Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Laura McMillin, president, presided and officers were elected.

They are, president, Mrs. M. G. Haydin; vice president, Mrs. Laura McMillin; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Cowan; secretary of stewardship, Mrs. Dean Cree; and secretary of literature, Mrs. George Graham.

Plans were discussed to make apple butter. Proceeds will go to the church building fund. The "Thank offering" event to be given to the church next month was discussed. Mrs. McMillin led devotions and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Violet Muir. The next meeting will be Nov. 13.

Miss Ann Pleas of Fairview Rd. and Misses Louise Gypalo of Midland Ave. and Annette DiRenzo of Beaver Ave., Midland, have returned after a two-week vacation at Miami Beach.

merling. Smith is en route to Philadelphia to attend the International CBMC convention next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe sang a duet. A quartet of CBMC members, Emmett Gaston, Thurman Allen, Harold Hardy and Dr. Dimmerling, also sang several selections.

Stuttler

Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll, along with Jerome Raymond, ex-special officer, were indicted in 1956 on those counts.

Stuttler was indicted in June on the Burdick charge.

Yesterday Judge Buzzard told Atty. Chertoff he was reluctant to grant any continuance in the present Burdick case since the defense was seeking to quash the other indictments on grounds they had not been tried within the allotted court terms.

2 City Cars Damaged In Downtown Collision

A collision late Friday afternoon at 5th and Market Sts. damaged both cars, police reported.

Officers said a car driven by Jane Helen Thornberry, 16, of 425 Rural Ln., was headed west and Charles Clark, 1965 Ephraim St., was pulling from a parking space when they collided.

There was heavy damage to the right front door of the Thornberry car and some to the fender of Clark's auto.

Darrell Myers, 1154 Pennsylvania Ave., told police this morning the rear fenders and bumper of his car were damaged when hit by a hit-skip motorist about 4:45 a. m. The loud crash awakened him, Myers said, and he found his car had been hit.

Equipment Purchase Authorized By Firemen

The purchase of 21 bunker suits and hats for the Chester volunteer fire department was authorized at a meeting of the firemen Friday night at the fire station.

The equipment will cost some $1,000. Two sample suits were exhibited at the meeting.

George Allison was accepted as a regular fireman after one year probation, and Frank Mader and Alonzo Brown were named probationary firemen for a year.

Fire Chief Raymond Gibbs announced the Hancock County Firemen's Association will meet Wednesday at Weirton. Lunch was served by 15 by William Glover, Gibbs and Mader. The next meeting will be Nov. 7.

City Man Fined $100 In Intoxication Case

Charles Hanlon of Shadyside Ave. was fined $100 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated.

Police cited Hanlon at 8:30 p. m. Friday on W. 8th St.

Austin Gregory, 170 Penn Ave., Chester, was fined $10 and costs by Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp on a charge of crashing a stop sign at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St. at 9:45 a. m. today. Judge Kapp suspended $5 of the fine.

Carl E. Schneider of 8th Ave., LaCrosse, forfeited an $11 bond on a charge of crashing the same stop sign Friday at 5:09 p. m.

Pope

a prince of the church. The baling will go on until the choice is made by two-thirds plus one of the cardinals present.

The opening of the basilica's doors today signaled the beginning of a solemn nine-day period of mourning and daily requiem masses there.

The first of the masses was conducted by the titular archbishop of Porfirore, Peter Canisius Van Lierde of Liege, Belgium.

The rising sun glinted through the windows of the massive dome, adding to the illumination given off by the candles surrounding the catafalque.

Nuns and priests of the Vatican staff prayed throughout Friday night by the scarlet-draped coffin behind the massive doors of St. Peter's.

Friday night the body was removed from its coffin and placed atop the six-foot high catafalque.

It was dressed in the Pope's formal episcopal robes, the same ones in which he is to be buried.

The top of the catafalque is slanted so the Pope's head is slightly higher than his feet.

The catafalque is under the basilica's dome, next to the baldachin, a massive canopied altar with spiral Byzantine pillars.

The main bronze doors of Christianity's largest church remained closed after the side doors were opened. A long corridor of low wooden barriers has been set up from the center of St. Peter's Square to the main doors. A Vatican official said the corridor and the main doors would be reserved for dignitaries.

Once the dignitaries are inside the basilica they will march in solemn procession along another barrier-flanked corridor leading directly to the catafalque.

Other mourners, entering on the right, walk along the outside of the barrier, circle the catafalque and shuffle slowly out through the other side door.

By midmorning, thousands had circled the catafalque. Some were weeping, some dry-eyed and many crossed themselves as they stood for a moment and contemplated the Pope's visage.

The solemn tribute at the red and gold catafalque, on which the coffin rested, ends with burial Monday in the grotto beneath the basilica.

An empty symbolic coffin will remain in St. Peter's through three special Requiem Masses Friday, Saturday and Sunday which close the mourning period.

Requiem Masses will be celebrated Sunday in Roman Catholic churches throughout the world. At the slow, measured pace set by the tolling of the giant campane, the master bell of the basilica, the body was carried through the majestic square of St. Peter's as darkness gathered.

Nearly a million persons had lined the 18-mile route from the papal summer residence to watch the glass-walled hearse bring the pontiff home to his native Rome. The procession stopped at the pontiff's Roman See, the basilica of St. John Lateran, then wound through hushed downtown Rome to the Vatican.

The tremendous throng was silent as the archpriest of the basilica, Federico Cardinal Tedeschini, led the way into St. Peter's basilica.

All the cardinals now in Rome waited as the coffin was placed on the six-foot-high catafalque in the middle of the church. There it remained in flickering candlelight as four noble guards in plumed golden helmets and four Swiss guards in pleated doublets stood guard overnight.

Before the mourners were admitted, the bier was moved to a spot nearer the altar. The new resting place was where the Pope had stood when holding mass audiences.

The coffin will remain near the altar until Monday. Then the Pope will be buried in a place he long ago selected.

The final rites will begin with the members of the sacred College of Cardinals and other leading church dignitaries taking a last look at the peaceful face of their spiritual leader for the last 19 years.

The body, still in the pontifical vestments, will be wrapped in a shroud of red silk and placed in the traditional triple casket.

A red velvet pouch containing one of each type of medal and coin struck during his reign will be placed at the Pope's feet along with a parchment scroll listing the major achievements of his pontificate.

A commission of cardinals, yet to be named, will then sign the official certificate of burial and permit the closing of the casket.

A Requiem will precede the lowering of the coffin into a marble sarcophagus in the grotto. There it will lie under the Altar of Confession, just beside the tomb of Pope Pius X, whom the late Pope proclaimed a saint, and near the tomb of Pius XI, his predecessor.

No monument will be erected in memory of Pius XII. This wish was contained in his will.

Dulles To Head U.S. Group To Pope Funeral

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles will head the U.S. delegation to the funeral of Pope Pius XII in Rome.

President Eisenhower announced this Friday in Gettysburg, Pa., where he took care of some official business during his weekend away from the White House.

At the same time, Eisenhower accepted an invitation from the apostolic delegation to attend a Pontifical Requiem Mass for the late pontiff next Tuesday at St. Matthews Cathedral here.

Named with Dulles to represent the United States at the Rome rites were Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former U.S. ambassador to Italy, and Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Cardinals Set Oct. 25 To Elect New Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The conclave of the College of Cardinals which will elect the 262nd supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, will begin Saturday, Oct. 25, the Vatican announced today.

The date for the conclave was set at a meeting of the 16 members of the Sacred College now in Rome. They met in the Apostolic Palace at the Vatican.

Lions Club Approves Requests For Glasses

Don Baxter, president, announced at the meeting of the Lions Club Friday night at the Travelers Hotel, the Board of Directors has approved an investigation of two children in need of glasses. More requests for examinations probably will be received as school nurses complete their physical examinations.

Paul Zehnder and James Johnston were named co-chairmen to make plans for the annual light bulb sale. Christ Pallis, civic improvement chairman, was asked to investigate the possibility of restoring club signs at the entrances to the city.

In an informal program, Leo C. Lawrence discussed his experiences as a flower grower.

4-H Club News

The Rhododendron 4-H Club of near Chester will collect funds for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) in a date of making "trick-or-treat" rounds at Halloween, officers decided at a meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Alvin Reed of the Allison School District, leader.

Charles Pugh will be chairman of the UNICEF campaign. A Halloween party also was planned for the club's next meeting Oct. 24 at the home of Mrs. Reed. It will be an open meeting for anyone who wants to become a member. Plans also were started for a hayride, but no date was set.

It was announced that Mrs. Edward White, counselor, will prepare program books for the year.

New Book On Bull Fighting Termed Artistic Photo Study

Miss Frances Jones, Librarian, said Barnaby Conrad, noted for his works on bull fighting, has composed an artistic photographic study of the life of a matador in "The Death of Manolete," among three new books on the shelves at the Carnegie Public Library.

It details skillfully the incredible pride and valor related to this famous sport.

Daphne Barclay, an English woman educated in Rome, has captured the spirit of the compassionate Italians in "Amedeo." It is an orphan's quest for his parentage, so poignant that it will be inevitably be a classic in literature.

Stephen Longstreet, an American, shows his versatility in writing a life of a Spanish painter, Julio Diaz Navarro, in "The Burning Man." Longstreet does for Navarro what Irving Stone did for Van Gogh in "Lust for Life."

Gen. Charles DeGaulle's recent political success in France has brought him once again to the forefront. The library has just secured the first volume of his war memoirs, "The Call to Honour." As a companion to the DeGaulle work it has also added Sir John Marriot's "Short History of France."

Adventure's opportunities are also available in a multitude of settings: the spirit of the modern viking is demonstrated by Bernt Balchen in "Come North With Me." Two Dutchmen, C. G. Egeler and I. De Booy, demonstrate hair-raising grit in "The Challenge of the Andes." Two women relate the charms of the Caribbean region: "Here is Haiti," by Ruth Wilson, and "Guatemala," an historical survey by Amy Jensen.

7 Candidates Speak At Grange Meeting

WEST POINT — About 63 attended a meeting of the West Point Grange Friday night when Democratic and Republican candidates for county offices spoke.

Speakers included Carl Stacey, candidate for clerk of courts; Kenneth Bell, for county auditor; John Kelly, for state representative; Atty. Robert Hartford, for Common Pleas Judge, and Max Gard for commissioner, all Democrats, and Galen Greenstein, for re-election as county commissioner, and I. J. Vorndran, for re-election as county auditor, both Republicans.

Music was provided by the Mellon family, and a hula hoop contest was held for young people. The next meeting will be Oct. 24.

Film On Birds Shown At Dahlia Club Session

David Stottell of Youngstown screened a Standard Oil Co. film, "Beautiful Birds of Ohio," at the meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia & Floral Society Friday night at the Ohio Power Co.

Fifty were present. J. T. Eccleston, president, conducted business. Mrs. Edwin Kountz, secretary, announced a board meeting will be held next Saturday at the home of Charles Glover of LaCrosse, treasurer.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Ivah Geisler and Miss Myrtle Finney. Leo Lawrence will report on the Cincinnati dahlia show at the next meeting Friday, Nov. 14. Eccleston will tell of serving as a judge at the Washington and Richmond shows.

Auctioneer Qualifies

LISBON — Harold McCrea of Salem R. D. 2 qualified as an auctioneer when he posted $1,000 bond in Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard's court Friday and paid a $5 for his year's license.

For those who like escape reading of a deadly variety, the following are recommended: "Or He the Dead," by Harry Carmichael; "The Affair of the Exotic Dancer," by Ben Benson; "Murder Takes a Wife," by James Howard; and "Deadly Purpose," by Robert P. Hanson.

Annual Fire School Held At Midland Plant

Firemen from several district departments participated in a fire fighting demonstration this morning and a panel discussion this afternoon at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. as the climax to the observance of National Fire Prevention Week.

The annual day-long affair was supervised by Lt. J. W. Graham, plant fire marshal. Methods of fighting a variety of fires were demonstrated.

Firemen had an opportunity to use their departments equipment in various test runs.

Reds Says U.S. Uses

Balloons Over Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union accused the United States today of using balloons for the purpose of seeking out targets on Soviet territory for atomic attack.

It displayed what was identified as a downed American balloon equipped with cameras and film, which a Soviet spokesman said was evidence U.S. military authorities are looking for targets in the Soviet Union.

A Soviet military aviation specialist said it had been intercepted by the Soviets only recently and declared it was not intended for meteorological observations as the Americans claimed in replying to previous Soviet complaints.

'Sublime Gift From Heaven'

Pope Championed Peace

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The word "peace" more than any other was on the lips of Pius XII. His concern with it had preceded his elevation to the papacy.

In 1917, when he was only 42, Pope Benedict XV named him papal nuncio to Bavaria and instructed him to appeal to the Kaiser to end World War I.

Almost the first public words that Pius XII expressed—the day after his election March 2, 1939—were in behalf of peace, that "sublime gift from Heaven."

A few months later with the world again on the brink of war, he appealed to people and rulers of the world.

"Nothing is lost with peace; all may be lost with war," he warned.

When war came, eight days after his broadcast, Pius XII turned his attention to alleviating its suffering as much as possible.

Negro Victim Of Stabbing In Pen Riot

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A Negro

inmate was stabbed to death at State Prison Friday night in what Warden George Goodman termed a riot stemming from racial antagonism.

The victim was Willard Jones, 28, of Camden, who was stabbed by a needle-sharp bedspring that had been honed on a rock.

The Mercer County prosecutor's office was investigating.

A white prisoner, George Stolz, 29, of Glendale, N.Y., was shot in the leg by a guard when he tried to climb over a fence from the rioting maximum security section to the main yard.

Twelve other inmates were injured, three of them detained at the prison hospital.

The fight broke out among a group of 15 maximum security inmates who were milling about their fenced-in section of the prison yard.

"Apparently the fight started from racial antagonism," Goodman said. Six or eight guards wielded night sticks among the struggling convicts and restored order.

The rioters were part of a group of 40 who have no contact with other inmates. "They're the un-usable ones," Goodman said.

Chief 'Jumps Gun'

On Halloween Pranks

Halloweeners were cautioned today by Police Chief Americo Radeschi that pranks and vandalism will not be tolerated.

Radeschi said those involved and apprehended will be held responsible for any damages. In the case of juveniles, their parents will be liable, he said.

The chief said he was giving ample warning after receiving several reports of vandalism in suburban areas.

He warned that placing objects on the streets or throwing tomatoes at passing cars can result in serious accidents.

Schell HEATING CO.

At war's end, recalling the havoc he had witnessed in Germany in 1918 he centered his efforts toward the establishment of "just and true peace."

But the end of World War II brought no peace to Pius XII or the church he headed.

It brought, instead, a bitter, expanding attack of atheistic communism which produced new catacombs in the East. The Pope referred to "the church of silence that points to the fresh graves of her martyrs, the chains of her confessors." The end of the war left more than 50 million Roman Catholics under Communist control.

From Yugoslavia to China and Korea, fierce Communist attacks were to result in a few years in slaying, jailing or banishment of priests and nuns, bishops, archbishops and even cardinals.

The church's struggle for existence in a large area of the world was the constant, deep sorrow of Pius XII. Correlated with it was his anxiety lest world war on atomic scale, should break out once more. All his Christmas messages and countless other speeches hammered on the need for peace.

He described atomic weapons as "murderous and inhuman." "Another world war," he said, recalling Genesis, "would be so destructive as to make the earth 'void and empty, a desolate chaos, like to a desert over which the sun is not rising but setting.'"

A dove bearing an olive branch and perched above stormy waters was the emblem on Eugenio Piacelli's papal seal.

But when the "unwearied advocate" for peace, as he had called himself, at last closed his eyes in rest, the dove of peace had not yet reached that true and just haven for which Pius XII had spoken, fought and prayed.

PTA At Hillcrest To Hold Carnival

A carnival was planned for Oct. 24 by the Hillcrest-Fairview Parent-Teacher Association at its meeting Thursday night in the Yellow Creek Township school.

The group will also sponsor an afternoon Halloween party, Oct. 31 with the homeroom mothers in charge. Mrs. Dale Joy was re-elected historian and the group will affiliate with the National PTA Congress.

Richard Payne, president, presided and led devotions. John Randolph, fifth and sixth grade teacher, safety chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flesch, hospitality co-chairmen, were introduced. The attendance banner was won by the first grade of Mrs. Frances Jack. Mrs. Payne won a prize. National Education Month will be observed at the November meeting. Mrs. James Thrasher, program co-chairman, will present teachers in a round-table discussion and "open house" for parents will be held.

Beginning To Get The Idea

Vice President Nixon, it is agreed by those who are watching him take field command of the Republican party for the climax run of the 1958 race, is putting life into the campaign.

It looks belatedly as if Republican workers are beginning to get the big idea. This is the year — 1958 — that the labor unions intend to take over the Democratic party by proving they are its working heart and core.

The labor unions, working through their own intricate and well financed political organizations, hope to prove this by piling up an impressive total of victories over the Republican party in congressional elections and contests for governorships.

They are counting on enough Republican indifference to carry out this strategy by getting their voters to the polls in massive numbers while Republican voters stay home. They hope there may be enough Republicans unaware of what they are doing to make the job easy.

THIS IS WHAT Vice President Nixon is trying to short-circuit with his high-voltage blasts to wake up the Republican organizations. If he has any luck, there won't be a Republican chairman, committeeman, or a precinct worker left in doze by the end of a fortnight.

All of them will be pounding pavements and pushing doorbells to match the do-or-die efforts of the labor unions' political organizations in key congressional districts and key states throughout the country.

It is not just Republicans whom Vice President Nixon hopes to stir into action, moreover. Under the two-party system, Republican organizations bear responsibility for leading the opposition to the 1958 efforts of the labor unions, and to the Democratic organizations that the unions already dominate or are expecting to take over. But in 1958, the Republican party is the rallying point for all voters who don't like the prospect of a Democratic party ruled to suit either Walter Reuther or James Hoffa.

If all voters who think that would make a mockery of the two-party system will show up at the polls so their votes can be counted, it cannot happen in 1958.

But it can happen easily in 1958, unless there is a massive rally to the Republican side in the next three weeks. On the basis of pollings and samplings, it will have to be something like the rally that occurred in 1948 when Harry Truman took up a field command in a presidential election and registered an upset victory.

THIS IS Vice President Nixon's task — to put last-minute drive and determination into a campaign that otherwise would be no match for the well organized and heavily backed efforts of labor union politicians and their Democratic allies. He will be criticized, of course, for borrowing some of Mr. Truman's slam-bang tactics.

But Mr. Nixon knows what some of his fellow Republicans need to find out — that in a showdown with slam-bangers who know no other way to operate there is no choice but to beat 'em at their own game.

He learned that a long time ago, by fighting for his political life in California against the slam-bangers of the Communist party.

On The Scent Of A Nuclear Mouse

The man who has commanded the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean and will be the next commander of Allied forces in southern Europe, Vice Adm. Charles R. Brown, has put the dilemma of a modern fighting man in capsule form:

How can a nation with a nuclear weapons system defend itself against bows and arrows?

Adm. Brown has caused a stir in Washington by saying that for practical reasons he has no faith in the theory that small nuclear devices might be used successfully in a "limited war."

He said it is his conviction that the size of the devices will have nothing to do with it; that if the United States retaliates after a "bow-and-arrow" attack with a nuclear device it will trigger a full-scale nuclear war.

"I would not recommend the use of any atomic weapon, no matter how small, when both sides have the power to destroy the world," he declared.

The admiral's nickname is "Cat." The mouse he has detected in the nuclear-weapons system the United States is preparing could gnaw away more military security than any concept since France put its faith in the Maginot Line while its potential adversary was getting ready to use bombers and panzer divisions.

Being Prepared

Area families are being brought a little closer to the reality of world tension today by the distribution of a small booklet, "Handbook for Emergencies."

Boy Scouts here and throughout the nation are delivering to each home a copy of the book prepared by the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization for use in event of enemy attack, natural disasters or other emergencies.

The distribution marks not only a great public service by the Boy Scouts and a concrete effort by defense authorities to prepare the population for emergency—any emergency.

The handbook brings to every front door a reminder of the threat which all free nations face today from growing imperialism of the Kremlin and Peiping. It underscores the determination of America to work for peace and freedom at the same time it is preparing to defend itself and other free areas against aggression.

Every man, woman and child should study the procedures and advice in this book, not just in case of enemy action but in event of fires, flood or any emergency situation.

It enables all of us to make our personal motto the same as that of the scouts—"Be Prepared."

Grim Guess

The airlines are going to be stuck with obsolete planes when jet propulsion knocks out the piston engine as aviation's work horse. No one knows what will happen to them. The market for obsolete airplanes that are big enough to carry dozens of people won't be lively.

But remembering the past, here's a grim guess about some of their assorted fates:

The lucky ones will be used for freight and fly-by-night airlines in parts of the world that aren't interested in spanning the Atlantic in a little more than six hours.

The unlucky ones will become restaurants, souvenir stands, chicken houses and make-do dwellings for human beings. They will be stripped of their removable parts and set up on blocks, like stuffed fish and birds.

That is what once happened to old buses and streetcars when they couldn't be disposed of. Some of the buses were converted for light hauling, because they still had some place to go. But the streetcars, with no place to go, went on blocks and became restaurants, which we feel sure will be news to the kiddies who never knew how the diner type of American architecture originated.

By H. I. Phillips

Fire Prevention Week was observed completely by our cigarette lighter.

Food dealers are told an egg that bounces but never breaks can be produced through antibiotics. It will seem funny trying to open a couple of hard-boiled eggs with a tennis racket.

Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea" is now on the screens. We don't see how it ever made it. No sex, no sheath gowns, no female allure, no embraces, no gun play and not one instance of the lines "Have a drink?" — "Why are you telling me all this?" or "Call the airport." Here is a screen epic in which a fisherman, a rowboat and a fish block out boudoirs, patios, bathroom flashes, gorgeous gowns, swimming pools, scenic designers, etc. The sofa is out. Tracy is sure to get the nomination as the Fisherman of the year. The fish is a cinch for the best supporting performance. The sharks, not one of which ever appeared in movies before, deserve medals. They perform strictly from hunger, lacking the benefit of bulldip or foreign names. Tracy gives a terrific performance as the brave fisherman in the lengthy struggle with the great marlin. He might well have exclaimed, "Who ordered fish, anyhow?"

Now that it has been established that the engineer of that train which took some 50 people to death through an open Jersey drawbridge did not have a heart attack but was drowned, how about forgetting the other alibis and getting down to the one simple conclusion that, in the interest of public safety, no operator should open any drawbridge for a boat when a trainful of people is due?

The eight languages under the classification of "Teutonic" are English, German, Swedish, Danish, Norwegian, Dutch, Frisian and Flemish.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

The cartoonist got up to speak first. He told how, lacking a high school education, he had been advised that his talents did not warrant further study in art school. Faith, however, gave him the strength to make the most of what he had. Today he is a top political cartoonist, appearing in more than 100 newspapers.

An engineer told how prayer had helped him solve a difficult construction task. A dentist shared the peace his faith had given him.

These inspiring talks were given at a dinner I attended of the Christian Business Men's Committee International, which has chapters throughout the United States and in 19 countries. Its aim is to "live consistently seven days a week, employing the study of the Word, prayer, constant vigilance, toward becoming Christian-like in personal, family, social and business life."

Pope Warned Against Big Labor

By Victor Riesel

From the slim priest, dwarfed only physically by the vast stage and the cavernous hall in which sat thousands of men of power, there came these words—sobering words to the men before him whose power sprang from their leadership of millions of Americans at a working men:

"He that loveth gold shall not be justified; and he that followeth after corruption shall be filled with it. Gold is the stumbling block to them that sacrifice to it. Woe to them that eagerly follow after it."—Ecclesiasticus, Chapter 31.

These were the early words of Monsignor George Higgins' invocation at the last AFL-CIO convention, the convocation which ousted some corrupt forces. But the chidings invoked by Msgr. Higgins could have been the warnings of a score of labor priests reflecting the teachings and labor philosophy of Pope Pius XII.

For there was more in his Holiness' own concern over the working man than the mere inveighing against corruption by men who lead unions.

DURING HIS LIFETIME, in private conversations in the U.S. and other lands and in his public pronouncements, the Pope was ever concerned over the crushing impact of "bigness" on the individual. Despite his support of organized labor in all free lands, his Holiness spoke out against the bigness of labor as well as the vastness of industry and capital.

Corruption, he warned, compounded its own evil by utilizing bigness to regiment into faceless millions of workmen. In the Red East, it was political corruption. In the Free West, it was the corruption of gold.

Searching through Pope Pius XII's public views on labor and capital, the most characteristic seems to be in his 1952 Christmas message. Here is found the constant theme, the warnings against depersonalization. One scholar, Father Cronin, of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, has written in the "The Catholic Mind":

"It (the theme) was also found in friendly warnings to the labor movement, cautioning unions lest they repeat the mistakes made by capital in the 19th Century. It colored his comments upon economic progress."

HIS HOLINESS spoke out against exploitation by capital wherever he found it in the world.

But the Pope reiterated that, if the only answer to big business was to be big labor and big farm groups, what voice would the individual have in determining his economic and political destiny?

Thus, for example, he spoke out against what the Germans call "co-determination." This word refers to the successful effort of German unions to become co-managers of the huge iron and steel industries there. Today, though they have no ownership rights, the unions sit on the boards of directors of the big companies determining the sales, personnel, production and profit distribution as well as policies of the giant corporations in those two fields.

Thus from 1949 to 1951, the Pope warned against co-determination which separates ownership from actual full control of productive property. The Pope said that labor should not, as a matter of right, demand a voice in the management of a firm.

Always he considered the middle class as an "essential segment" of the citizenry of each country.

Across this panorama woven over the decades by Pope Pius, the crusades of America's labor priests became more meaningful in the humble homes of workmen. It gives greater depth, for example, to the fight of the "waterfront priest," Father John Corridan, to the wide counseling of Msgr. Higgins, to the challenge to the mob by Father Jerome Drolet in a Louisiana parish, to the solace and warmth steelworkers found in Father Charles Owen Rice, and to the editorial crusading of Father Benjamin Masse.

These are young and daring men. They are but a few of those who have often walked alone in physical danger. In turn, they taught the Mr. Bigs everywhere that workmen live by more than bread alone.

Soviet Russia is feeding radio propaganda to American troops in Germany reminiscent of the Nazi "Axis Sally" wartime broadcasting of sweet music and sweet talk.

"Moscow Molly," as GIs call the Soviet program, broadcasts on the same frequency as the Armed Forces Network (AFN), the GI radio and Germany.

AFN's transmissions halt at 1 a. m., and "Moscow Molly" at once slides onto the vacated AFN frequency. It is not until 6 a. m. that the U.S. station takes over again.

Pope Pius Spoke On Business Morality

A great man—perhaps one of the greatest of the last hundred years—has died in Rome. But his work, his utterances, his preachings, not merely of the gospel but on the ethics of mankind, will live on for generations. Pope Pius XII was more than the head of a powerful church in the world. He was an inspiring leader of men, and much of what he said could be accepted as sound logic, irrespective of sectarian beliefs. The late Pope made so many remarkable addresses that the books which contain them will be read and re-read for pertinent quotations concerning affairs of state, including both internal and external policies.

For many years, this correspondent has studied the papal utterances, and has frequently quoted from them the doctrines of moral force that could influence governments as well as peoples in the attainment of world peace.

Not only on international but on internal affairs, his Holiness was incisive in his comments. An address on the Christian aspect in business, which he made to a group of businessmen in Rome on April 14, 1956, particularly comes to mind. It applies as much to controversies of the day in this country as it does in many other democracies of the world. He said:

"Your labors make it clear once again how much can be accomplished in the field of production by private initiative properly understood and reasonably free from interference. This private initiative contributes to the wealth of the community, alleviates, as well, the burden of human toil, raises the efficiency of labor, diminishes the costs of production and develops the habit of saving.

"For this reason, the Church has never ceased and will not cease to react unfavorably to the attempts which have been made in certain countries to attribute to the state powers and duties which it does not possess. The Church, after the example of her divine founder, gives to Caesar all that is Caesar's; she could not give more without betraying her mission and mandate entrusted to her by Christ.

"Wherefore, just as the Church does not hesitate to raise her voice in protest when the civil power tries to arrogate to itself a monopoly of the instruction and education of the young, so in like manner she opposes, on the basis of moral principles, everyone who would attribute to the state excessive control over the economic life of its citizens.

"WHERE THIS interference is not restrained, there can be no adequate solution of the social question. Where this interference is extended to 'total planning,' certain aims are realized, but only at the cost of inestimable losses brought about by an insane and destructive urge. The just liberties of the individual are destroyed. The serenity of labor is disturbed. The sacred character of the family is violated. The love of country is corrupted. The precarious patrimony of religion is obliterated.

"We hope, therefore, that responsible men will not yield to the easy temptation of inviting, on the part of the state, an excessive interference which would embarrass, discourage and suffocate the independent action of men who, while they work, of course, for their own legitimate interests, still are making an essential contribution to the welfare of all their fellow-citizens as well as to the prosperity of their native land.

"We must, however, add another word with the same pastoral frankness. One sometimes hears understandable but scarcely justifiable complaints about certain interventions of the state, which are directed, not towards hindering the productive impulse, but rather towards regulating in a more equitable manner distribution of the goods produced by human industry.

"SUCH INTERVENTIONS cannot be called unlawful without some qualifications. Our rejection of totalitarian planning which destroys all individual enterprise does not imply that a regime of absolute freedom in the economic field is acceptable. This would in fact set a premium on indifference to the welfare of others, and would engender contempt for certain indispensable principles dictated by considerations of human and Christian brotherhood. These principles are more urgent today than ever before. Such indifference and contempt must not be found among you, beloved sons. . . .

"Spare no efforts in giving your business firm a truly Christian aspect. Do not be content to believe in Jesus, or even to practice Christian principles in your private life alone; be Christians in your corporate life as well. Live the gospel in the relations that arise between those who provide work and those who perform it. All of you are the sons of God, and all are equally necessary to the enterprise, although in different degrees according to the different functions you perform."

Dear Nephew: Politics is warming up around here, and I trust you are the same. With the World Series out of the way and the melancholy days settling in, there isn't anything more worth doing than to get into the thick of the political campaigns. It's time for Armageddon again.

This is the way we govern ourselves — by the emotionalism of political showdowns. It makes an old-timer like me who has watched the show go on for what sometimes seems like two lifetimes mighty impatient when people hold themselves aloof from the political hurly-burly because they think they are above that sort of thing. No wonder what the critics would propose as an improvement. Then again, I know what some of them have in mind. It is not the hurly-burly they object to but the fact they mistrust the process that give rise to all this October excitement.

They shy away from the idea of popular decisions, because they do not really believe in representative democracy. They are like the skeptics among the Founding Fathers, who could not be convinced that it would work. But history has proved they were wrong.

Sometimes it doesn't work very well, but it has worked better than any other system tried before and since — and it's still the most envied system on earth. The idealists and perfectionists should quit looking at it down their noses and try to understand why it's a good idea to blow off steam once each year, then forget about it until time for the next blowoff.

As you know, I have had a finger in politics off and on for some 30 years — not a hand, just a finger. It helps me to keep posted, because I can keep track of what is going on. And I can say without reservation that if everybody would take a flyer in politics once in his lifetime there would be less misunderstanding of the way we get government.

It's by free competition between ideas in the marketplace of popular opinion — good, bad and medium ideas. Ideally, the good ideas always should win, but practically the bad ones and half-bad ones are bound to win sometimes, too. And that puts them under the guns. Our hit-and-miss system gives people a chance to correct their mistakes as well as to glory in their successes. That is the American secret.

Mostly, political candidates are nothing but symbols; it's what they stand for that makes the difference. Sometimes no one can be sure what they do stand for, but that information cannot be kept a secret indefinitely. Eventually, it comes through loud and clear if voters look and listen.

The only thing that can hurt the system is indifference. That is where representative democracy can stub its toe. We can survive if we boycott the marketplace of popular opinion, where we put our ideas to the test.

I forgot to tell you I made an impressive batch of wild-cherries bounce this year. I couldn't stand to see that bumper crop of wild cherries go to waste. Remind me to give you a chance to pass judgment on the bounce the next time you visit us. On second thought, I won't need to be reminded. Your aunt keeps wanting me to forget it. She says I'm too old for bouncing.

Regards to the family—and happy politics to all!

Solar Furnace

The nation's biggest solar furnace, now operating at Natick, Mass., is capable of intensifying ordinary sunshine into temperatures approximating those generated by a nuclear blast.

Site of the furnace is the Headquarters Quartermaster Research & Engineering Command Center. It is used for laboratory testing of materials designed to protect soldiers against the thermal effects of nuclear and other weapons.

The furnace is expected to produce temperatures near 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit by sharply concentrating the heat derived from the sun.

CORPS CADET BRIGADE

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth."
Ecclesiastes 12:1

Those who bear the Army banner affirm that the Christian religion helps youth resolve the fundamental realities with which human personality is concerned; this spiritual quality gives answers, quiets fears, and satisfies the desires of youth, making possible the development of a healthy personality, moving in a bewildering world.

The special group of teenagers within the Army, training for leadership positions in the organization, and who feel strongly moved to Christian witness and service, are known as Corps Cadets.

Young members who reach the seventh grade are given the privilege of becoming Corps Cadets and serving with the Brigade attached to the local Corps. Two three-year courses make up the six-year prescribed course of study. In addition to regular weekly classes in Bible and Salvation Army teaching and procedures, the Corps Cadets participate in aggressive Christian action through programs of home and institutional visitation, street corner evangelism (curb service, if you please!), selling Army periodicals and sharing in service projects. There are 26 such young people in the local Brigade.

A highlight of the program is a Congress held in New York City every four years, and which is scheduled this week-end. A group of twenty-one, seventeen Corps Cadets, and four leaders will be attending from East Liverpool.

Each of these young people has been working enthusiastically in the sale of religious mottoes, greeting cards, and candy to earn expenses for the Congress.

City Has 50-Year Member

Nazarenes To Mark Anniversary

When the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Nazarene denomination is celebrated Sunday, one of the most interested participants will be Ben J. Bixby of St. Clair Ave. Ext., among five surviving charter members of the denomination in Ohio.

When the denomination was organized 50 years ago, Bixby was residing in East Palestine and joined the church there, one of the first Nazarene churches in the state.

He came to East Liverpool and became a charter member of the First church when it was founded here in 1910. When the denomination first met, services were held in Bixby's home, then on Ravine St.

He is shown in the center with laymen from four area churches, all of which will observe the golden anniversary tomorrow. Left to right are Blaine Barrett of the LaCroft church, Glenn Thorne of Chester, Bixby, Alvin W. Eckleberry of Newell and Delmas Sanford of the First church.

Bixby has resided with his daughter, Mrs. Bonnie Stiteler, since the death of his wife Aug. 11.

Another charter member of the denomination is Mrs. Myrtle Pelley Taylor of East Palestine. The other three are scattered throughout the state.

A Sunday School rally tomorrow will climax the celebration. An attendance goal of 1,700 has been set for the three city churches with a goal of 11,000 for the 11 churches in the East Liverpool zone.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence will give official greetings at the Rally Day in the First church at 9:30 a. m. Special music will be presented by the Immanuel and the church orchestra directed by Mrs. May Rice.

At the 10:45 a. m. worship, the Rev. James E. Hunton will preach on "Glory Today for Conquest Tomorrow." His topic for the evening evangelistic service at 7:30 will be "One Thing."

Music will be presented by the Choir, Immanuel and Robert Witbeck of East Cleveland.

The various NYPS groups will meet at 6:30 p. m.

Visitation will be held Monday at 6:45 p. m. and prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30. The men's prayer service will be held Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Chester

Nazarene

In observance of the 50th anniversary of the denomination the Rev. Lewis Legg will speak on "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" at the Church of the Nazarene Sunday morning.

A trio, Mrs. Rachel Durbin, Mrs. Edith Fetty and Mrs. Hilda Newlin, will sing.

Rally Day will be marked at Sunday School at 9:45.

"Completeness in Christ" will be Rev. Legg's sermon at the evening evangelistic service. Glenn Thorne, Clyde Baker, James Martin and Clarence Kirby will sing special music.

The Young People's Society will meet at 6:45.

A revival prayer meeting will be held Wednesday night at 7:30.

Free Methodist

"What Mean These Stones?" will be the sermon of the Rev. A. D. McGaffick at the Free Methodist Church Sunday morning at 11.

The FMY will meet at 7:30 p. m.

An evangelistic service will be held at 8 with Rev. McGaffick speaking on "Trade Winds from Heaven."

First Christian

The Rev. E. D. Gleason will preach at the 9:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services Sunday in the First Christian Church.

The topic at morning worship will be "God With His People." The selection, "Someone is Watching Your Light," will be presented by a quartet comprised of Miss Joyce Staley, Mrs. Curtis Cook, Mrs. Donald Murray and Mrs. Paul Murray. Other special music will include the anthem, "Hymn to the Trinity."

"Bosses in the Home" will be the evening sermon theme. The choir will sing "My Lord Is Waiting In the Garden." Miss Linda

Covert will present a solo, "I'll Go All the Way with Jesus." Miss Thea McSwegin and Miss Staley will present a duet, "My God and I." Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Garey and Charles Bowers will sing a trio selection, "He Lives."

The Young People's Society will meet at 6:30.

First Presbyterian

The sacrament of infant baptism will be held at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11.

The Rev. William Claghorn will speak on "Changing the Leopard's Spots."

James Cooper will be soloist for the choir anthem, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say."

Church School will meet at 9:45.

The Senior High Westminster Fellowship will meet at 1:30 at the home of Edward Jordan of Newell. A picnic lunch will be taken by members.

The youth budget committee will meet at 6 p. m.

THE

One of the great days in Joe's life ... and not just because it's a birthday.

It's THE birthday. The third birthday, which, in the custom of Joe's church, brings a child to the threshold of formal religious education.

Already Dad and Mother have taught him his prayers. Simple Bible stories have brightened bedtime. And Joe has enjoyed many a happy hour in the church nursery while his parents worshipped.

But during this important third year of his life he will become a full-fledged Sunday School pupil. He'll be a "regular" in the Beginners' Department.

And Joe's parents are going to join an adult class. For, while starting-age may vary slightly in one church or another, all Christendom knows that sound religious education depends on The Big Three—Father, Mother, and Child!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Potters Bow To Top-Rated Warren Harding Team, 32-8

Cunningham To Archer Pass Nets Potter Score

BY CHUCK CRONIN

Warren Harding High's unbeaten Black Panthers, boasting tremendous speed and one of the state's best swivel-hipped runners in Paul Warfield, made their homecoming a success Friday night by turning back East Liverpool, 32-8.

Over 10,000 fans packed in Harding Stadium at Warren saw the brilliant Warfield, 1957 state broad jumping champ, spark the Panthers to their fourth victory of the season by weaving his way for three touchdowns against the undermanned but hard-fighting Potters.

The Potters lost the game but probably gained a little prestige in the eyes of East Liverpool fans by waging a real struggle against the Warren powerhouse.

Two unsung sophomores combined their talents to score against the probable state champs and it was only the sixth touchdown allowed in four games for Warren against high ranking opposition.

Substitute quarterback Ken Cunningham, filling in for regular Bob Mackall who was injured early in the game, gave all indications of developing into one of the school's best passers while connecting with Tim Archer on a 14-yard aerial for the lone Potter touchdown.

Cunningham, a 140-pounder, passed his first major quarterbacking test with flying colors and completed two other passes good for 47 yards, including the third quarter scoring toss to left end Archer, a 150-pounder, who is waging a strong battle for a starting position.

Warfield seems destined to be one of Warren's greatest as he is only a junior and continued his bid for all-state honors by scoring three touchdowns, giving him a total of 10 for the year.

His first trip to the end zone came in the second quarter on a 12-yard run, the second in the third period on a short end sweep which covered about two yards, and the final touchdown a squirming dash down the sidelines, leaving would-be tacklers strewn across the field in his wake.

Fleet halfback Willie Jones and driving fullback Bob Sims scored the other two Warren touchdowns while guard Ken Reiser, a left-footer, booted a pair of placekicks for extra point conversions.

Although Warren finished with a wide edge in everything but passing yardage in the statistical column, the most glaring fact against Coach Gene Slaughter's club was the rash of fumbles which could prove costly when the important date with Massillon arrives in two weeks.

The Panther backs bobbed the football six times but were alert enough to recover them in all addition to both fumbles made by the Potters.

The winners had the widest edge in total yards gained rushing, 417 to 136, which practically tells the story of the game.

While Warfield and Jones ground out yardage with their explosive speed on end sweeps, Sims alone stood out in straight power running and turned in a bang-up job at fullback for Warren. He was injured late in the game and Slaughter remarked afterwards that he was afraid the husky senior had broken his ankle.

Fullback Bill O'Neil returned to the Potter lineup after missing the last two games and carried the brunt of the offensive attack. O'Neil accounted for over half of East Liverpool's yards gained by rushing and passing, carrying 11 times for 84 yards and gaining nine more on a pass completion from Cunningham. His longest run of the night was 31 yards.

Converted guard Nick Musuraca gained 34 yards in eight carries while running over a conversion and sparked the Potters on defense with bruising tackles.

As O'Neil seems to have shaken his injury trouble, coach Lou Venditti can look ahead to next week's game with Bellaire with a lot more confidence and may have his regular backfield together for the first time this season.

However, Dave Zelch, bothered with a shoulder injury, saw only limited action last night, and regular quarterback Mackall left the game early with a bruised side suffered in the first quarter. Missing from the Potter line was tackle Mike Kapp, out with a leg injury. Craig Burdick got the call to replace Kapp and played prop-ably his best defensive game of the year. He broke through the Warren line to block extra-point try from placement and Cunningham also got credit for batting down an attempted kick.

Warren managed to squeeze in at least one touchdown in every quarter and the first came with only 38 seconds left in the opening period.

East Liverpool received and started two thrusts but had to punt on two occasions in the first quarter. Warren took possession on its own 36 following Burdick's second punt, moved to the Potter 4-yard line in 13 plays from where Jones took a wide pitchout and went over the goal line standing up. Reiser's first placement was near-perfect.

The following kickoff found the Potters fumbling on their own 29-yard line and losing possession to set up Warren's second touchdown. After just three plays, Warfield took a wide pitchout, danced around his own right end, and crossed the goal line with 11:21 left in the second quarter. Reiser's second placement gave Warren a 14-0 halftime lead.

In the same period, Warren had scored another touchdown but it was called back because of a clipping penalty. Jones had twisted loose on a 22-yard run for the score but the clipping infraction nullified the touchdown.

The second quarter ended with Warren being stopped on the Potter one-yard line. The drive had started on the Potter 19 where the Panthers had cashed in on another East Liverpool fumble.

Warren's third touchdown following halftime festivities climaxed a drive of 75-yards which was covered in 11 plays including a 24-yard run by Sims. After moving to the 2-yard stripe, a wide pitchout to Warfield did the trick as he raced wide, turned on his bursting speed, and again crossed the goal line standing up. As the placement was blocked, Warren was in front, 20-0, with 6:27 remaining in the third period.

Following an exchange of punts in the same third period, O'Neil broke loose on a 31-yard run from the Warren 46-yard line to the 15 to set up the only touchdown of the Blue and White.

Two line backs by Musuraca and Goodballet carried only a yard further to the Warren 14, where faced with a third and four situation, Cunningham took to the air lanes and fired a pass which was just a little too long. However, on fourth down, he rifled a heave to Archer in the left side and with 45 seconds left in the third quarter, the Potters had their touchdown. Musuraca blasted through tackle for the 2-point conversion.

Warren put the ensuing kickoff in play on its own 30 following the Potter touchdown and began a push to the goal line which carried into the fourth quarter. Sims climaxed the drive by scoring from one-yard out on a tackle slash to give his team a 26-8 lead. An attempted placement by Reiser was low.

The Potters had only one scoring chance in the final period, moving the ball to the Warren 19 following the kickoff, but ran out of gas as Warfield staged a one-man pass defense.

Warren took possession deep in its own territory when the drive stalled, moved to the Potter 40 in a series of runs by Sims, and Warfield broke away on a 40-yard scoring run for the final Warren touchdown. It came with 1:36 left in the game.

Jets Pilot Reported Hired As Reds Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The (Columbus) Ohio State Journal reported today that Columbus Jets Manager Clyde King has accepted a job as pitching coach for the Cincinnati Redlegs for the 1959 baseball season.

Officials of the two clubs declined comment, but the Journal said King's appointment would be announced within three days.

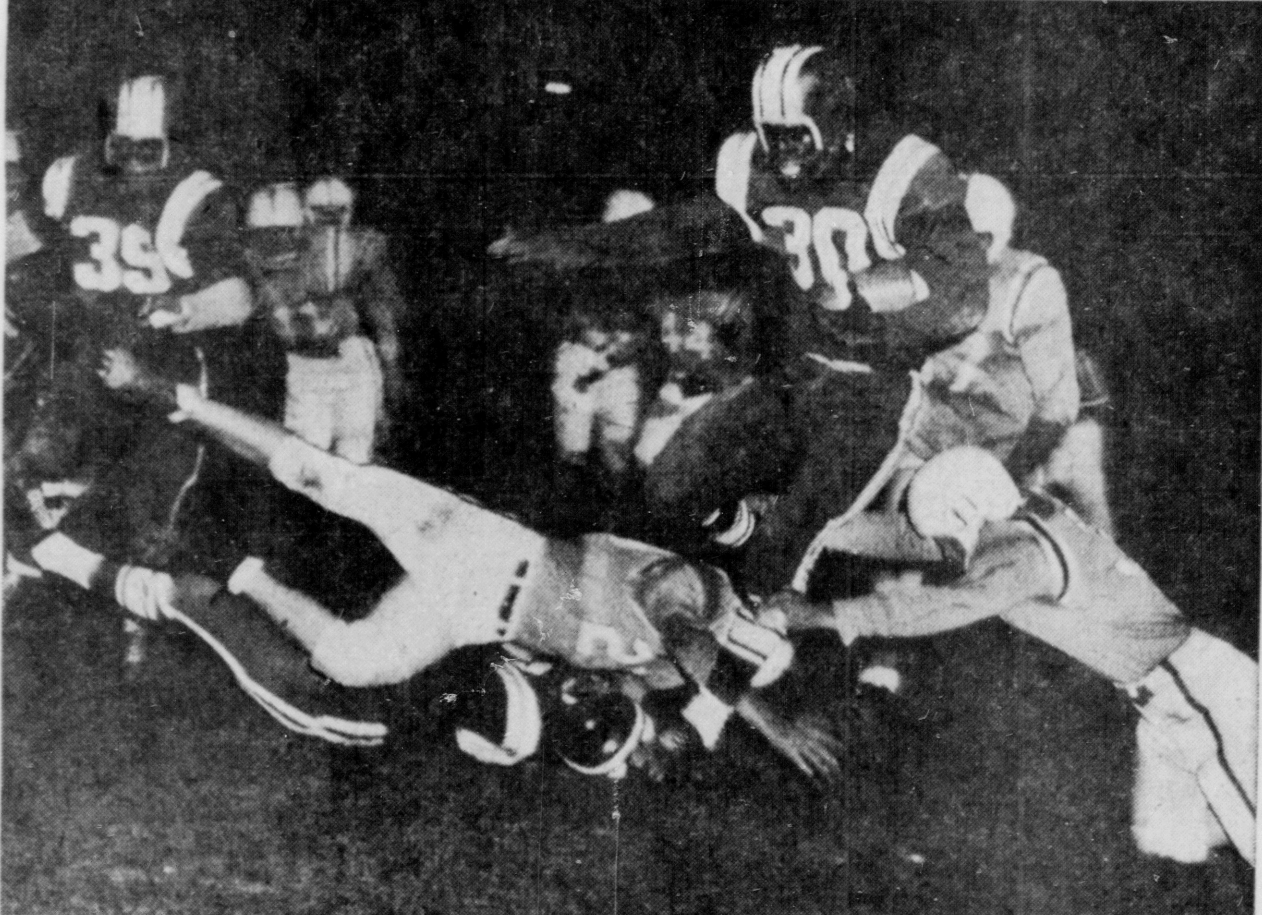

The National Football League set an attendance record in 1957 when 2,836,318 spectators attended 72 games.

Sebring Nips Lisbon, 20-12

SEBRING — Sebring pushed over two first-quarter touchdowns and added another in the final stanza to hand invading Lisbon its third defeat, 20-12, here last night.

Quarterback Art Tule threw for two touchdowns and the two points conversions after the first score to pace the Sebring attack.

Tule first connected on a 29-yard heave early in the second period to end Ed Freshley for a marker, and then threw to halfback Joe McAbier for the points after the touchdown.

A pass interception by Sebring at the Lisbon 35 placed it in scoring position for its second touchdown of the period. They quickly marched to the Blue Devils' seven-yard line from where Tule hit halfback Carl Mort in the end zone for the score. The run for the extra points failed.

Lisbon got its offense rolling in the third period and marched from its own 38 to the Sebring three from where fullback Jack Williams bucked over.

Another Lisbon drive — this one originating at the Blue Devils' 17 — netted it a touchdown in the final period. Quarterback Denny Reese climaxed the offensive by going 23 yards around his own left end for the marker.

Sebring capitalized on a Lisbon fumble at its own 25 and in five plays carried to the Blue Devils' nine. Tule pitched out to Art Kynner on the next play and he went the distance for the score.

Lisbon could penetrate no deeper than the Sebring 25-yard line in the remaining minutes of the fourth period.

Injuries May Be Factor In Browns-Cards Fray

CLEVELAND (AP) — Injuries may be a factor in Sunday's clash between the Cleveland Browns and Chicago Cardinals, home opener for the Browns. A crowd of around 50,000 is forecast.

The Browns, leading the National Football League's Eastern Division with two victories and no defeats, will go without rookie halfback Leroy Bolden and veteran offensive end Pete Brewster. Both are sidelined with injuries suffered in last week's 45-12 triumph over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Cardinals learned Friday that rookie halfback John Crow of Texas A&M is not likely to play. He has a bone separation in the collar bone region.

Leetonia Wins Over Clippers

COLUMBIANA — Leetonia spoiled Columbiana's bid for a homecoming victory by edging the Clippers, 20-12, here Friday night.

Bob Osterling, Leetonia's high-scoring fullback, paced the winning attack with touchdowns of 19 and 60 yards. Quarterback Ray Baltz did all the Clipper scoring on sneaks for short yardage.

Columbiana opened the scoring by blocking a Leetonia punt at the Bears' eight-yard line, with Baltz sneaking over from the one-yard line three plays later.

Leetonia staged a 66-yard offensive late in the first period and Osterling deadlocked the score at 6-6 when he scored on an eight-yard sneak after catching a 47-yard pass to put the ball in scoring position.

Columbiana bounced back in the third period to take the lead with a 95-yard drive, climaxed by a two-yard sneak by Baltz. However, the Leetonia defense allowed no further Clipper touchdowns, though Columbiana did roll up a bulging 22-9, first down advantage.

Osterling got the first of two third-period Leetonia scores on his 60-yard dash which came on the first play from scrimmage following the Columbiana kickoff after its touchdown.

Terry Tilley, second string Leetonia quarterback who has a capable throwing arm, heaved a 32-yard aerial to end Warren Gullett for the final touchdown. Tilley also tossed to Gullett for the points after touchdown.

Wayne Hands Irondale 3rd Loss By 14-6

Coach Fred Sim's hard luck Irondale eleven threatened on numerous occasions but was able to push across only one touchdown and dropped its third straight game Friday afternoon — a 14-6 decision to host Wayne.

The Irons were on the Wayne two-yard line when the game ended and were inside the 20-yard line at least once in each period, but the Wayne defense held.

Irondale took the opening kickoff and began a march which carried it to the Wayne nine-yard line where they surrendered the ball on downs.

Neither team threatened again in the first period, but in the second stanza Wayne began a drive at the Irondale 45 and moved to the nine where quarterback Tom Butler flipped a touchdown pass to halfback Jim Lytle in the end zone. A Butler-to-Ed West pass resulted in the two points after touchdown.

The second Wayne score came on a 25-yard run by Butler in the second period, with the attempted run for the extra points failing. Butler turned in his scoring run on the first play from scrimmage after the Irons had attempted a fourth-down run with one yard to go and failed.

An 18-yard pass play going from Bill Chetock to end Doug Logan in the fourth period earned Irondale its only marker. An extremely strong wind worked to Irondale's advantage when Wayne punted from its own 10 and the ball carried only to the 25, putting the Irons in position for their score.

Late in the fourth period, Irondale marched to Wayne eight-yard line and was held on downs. But the stiff wind continued to bother the Wayne punter and the Irons got an additional two scoring chances because of it.

After the second Irondale threat, Wayne kicked out again but the ball carried only a few yards and the Irons were soon in scoring position at the Wayne seven where they were again stopped.

Still another Wayne punt fell short, but time stopped the Irons at the Wayne 2-yard line.

Stengel Cries 'Rubbish' On Quitting Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, said today that he was not considering quitting his job.

"Plain rubbish," said the 68-year-old skipper still enjoying the thrill of beating the Milwaukee Braves in the final game of the World Series Thursday after losing down three games to one.

"There's too much work to be done for me to think about quitting," Casey added.

Stengel's two-year contract expires this year and talk of his quitting was revived Friday by a story in the New York Post that Stengel and General Manager George Weiss are feuding.

"Unless the breach is healed, according to people close to the situation, there is a 50-50 chance that Stengel will never put on a Yankee uniform again," wrote Jimmy Cannon, the Post's sports columnist.

Retorted Weiss: "This is a barefaced lie and you can make it as strong as you like. There is absolutely no semblance of a feud between us."

"Certainly we haven't got around to discussing a new contract, but that in itself is nothing new. We seldom in the past have ever been in a hurry to draw a new one when the old one expires. Then we sit down to talk terms and that's that. I expect him to be with us again. He has been a great manager."

The club has called a press conference for Tuesday. Stengel said he would be present to discuss plans for the 1959 season.

Kiggans' Passes Bring Touchdowns For Tigers

The Mason brothers—Melvin and Chuck—who are a pair of lightweight speedsters, scored a touchdown apiece to pace Cadiz in an 18-14 revenge victory over Wellsville at the Cards' stadium Friday night.

Chuck Mason raced 22 yards around the Wellsville left end for the second Cadiz touchdown in the first period and brother Mel fumbled it momentarily, allowing his blockers to position themselves, and then raced down the sidelines for the score.

Wellsville fought back after the kickoff, taking the ball at its own 28 and moving for four consecutive first downs with Pat Creaturo and Delposen handling the running chores. From the Cadiz, 16, quarterback Bob Kiggans threw a pass to end Bob Brown who carried it in for the first Tiger marker.

Early in the fourth period, Cadiz took over on its 20-yard line after a punt by Brown. Quarterback Lee faded almost to his end zone on an attempted pass which was intercepted by Delposen. Delposen then carried to the two and scored on the next play when Kiggans hit him on a pass in the end zone.

Kiggans added the extra points on a faked kick and run.

The game ended with Cadiz on the Wellsville six after it had intercepted a fourth down desperation pass thrown by Kiggans deep in his own territory.

First downs were even at eight apiece.

SALEM — Coach Earl Bruce's Quakers got back on the winning trail after being dropped by powerful Brookfield last week by soundly trouncing visiting Wooster High, 33-0, here Friday night.

It was the third season victory for the high-scoring Quakers whose only other defeat was to Cleveland John Marshall, 19-12.

Big Lou Slaby, giant Salem fullback, and Fred Phillips led the scoring parade with two touchdowns each. Slaby scored his first on a one-yard crash and added another on a four-yard plunge. Phillips scored on two short runs from near the five-yard line.

Pat Blunt scored a touchdown for Salem by intercepting a pass and returning it 30-yards, and also ran over a conversion. Benny Jones made one conversion for Salem on a placement.

The Quakers showed a wide edge in rushing statistics and gained 104 yards passing to Wooster's 57.

Chester Trounces Newell Eleven For Third Victory, 25-6

Sayre Tallies 3, Penalties Mar Contest

By ROB NIBLOCK

Panther power and halfback Ken Sayre were too potent for Coach Pete Horosko's lightweight Newell gridders, and Chester triumphed, 25-6, for its fourth consecutive win against the Big Green in the traditional rivalry renewed last night at Memorial Stadium before some 800 fans.

Sayre scored three touchdowns — two on dazzling dashes — and the balanced Panther ground attack chalked up 10 first downs and 243 yards as only penalties slowed them.

CHESTER HALFBACK KEN SAYRE breaks into the clear on a 49-yard scoring jaunt for the second of three touchdowns he scored Friday night at Newell's Memorial Stadium in leading the Panthers to 25-6 romp over long-standing rival Newell.

An amazing number of 16 penalties were called, 12 of them against the Panthers, in the contest. The fired-up gridders of both teams were caught for several 15-yarders in the closely-fought game. Penalty assessments cost the Panthers 145 yards and nullified two touchdowns.

The victory gives coach Dom Amedeo's Chester eleven a respectable 3-2-1 record to date and puts them back on the winning side of the ledger after a setback by Warwood last week.

The Big Green team, which is small and inexperienced, but shows promise, has only one victory, and the defeat was its fourth.

Chester wasted little time in scoring as end Bob Shaffer blocked a Newell punt and recovered on the Newell two. On the first play from scrimmage, Sayre crashed off tackle for the score, but fullback Don Shaw was stopped on the extra point attempt.

Neither team could get an offensive going until mid-way in the second period due to frequent rule infractions which lost them valuable yardage.

The Panthers gained possession after a second period Newell punt which carried to the Chester 31. Bill Mayhew advanced it to the 46 on a 15-yard sweep around the end and Shaw gained three more to the 49. Then Sayre swung around his own left end on the next play, picked up some good blocking, and sped the distance for his second touchdown of the evening. A rush by Mayhew for the extra point failed.

Sayre's touchdown closed out the first half scoring as Newell went to the air with time running out in a vain attempt to penetrate the Panther defense. Quarterback Joe Graham hit substitute Bob Barnett on two successive passes, but he was closely guarded thereafter.

The Panthers received the second half kickoff and in five plays marched for their third score. On carries by Mayhew, Sayre and Don Shaw, Chester moved the ball from its own 38 to the Newell 32 from where Sayre scored his final touchdown on a splendid piece of broken field running. The Panthers again failed to convert as Sayre was stopped on a rushing attempt.

Chester dominated the third period of play and iced the game on an early fourth period touchdown. The Panthers marched quickly from the Newell 42 — taking over there after a punt — to the Newell two-yard line where a quarterback Dave Brooks scored on a keeper. Mayhew got the first Panther point after touchdown on a run around the right end.

A few plays after their last tally, the Panthers recovered a Newell fumble at the hosts 46 and substitute John Moore went over on a 34-yard sweep around the end, but the marker was voided by a clipping penalty.

Newell cashed in on a late fourth period gamble for its only touchdown. Tom Woods took a handoff from Steve Norris, who faked a fourth down punt at the Big Green 49, and streaked to Panther 33 before the surprised Chester defense recovered.

Graham dropped back on the next play and hit halfback Harp McCuen with a perfect pitch down the center for the touchdown. Woods' attempted placement for the extra point fell short.

Chester crossed the Newell goal line once more before time expired, but the touchdown was nullified, this time by an offside penalty. Brooks flipped a 34-yard pass to end Larry Murray for the score but the ball was called back on the rule infraction.

Abolish Union Shop, Sen. Mundt Urges

CLEVELAND (AP)—Abolish the union shop and better labor unions will result, U. S. Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) declared Friday night. Urging Ohioans to adopt a proposal to regulate labor contracts, he said better unions would have to serve and sell their members rather than rely on compulsory union membership. He spoke before the Associated Industries of Cleveland.

Steve Bolloise, former middleweight fighter, and his former manager, Eddie Walker, are working at Yonkers Raceway.

Daily Double Pays $53.80 At Waterford

Rhydare and Dan Mono, a pair of three-year-old geldings, combined for a daily double combination of 6 and 10 and a payoff of $53.80 Friday at Waterford Park.

Rhydare, winner of the first race, paid $6.40, $3.40 and $3, while Dan Mono returned $8.60, $5.20 and $7.60. F. Green made an easy score with Rhydare in the first race while Milton Dalgo booted home Dan Mono in the second race with comparative ease. The featured seventh race, The Crestview, with a purse of $1,100, was won by Snuffy Sneezzer. ## Golfers Find Par Is Tough

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—You would think that no amateur golfer in his right mind would try to conquer the rugged Old Course at St. Andrews in a championship tournament when the wind is howling and the barometer is low.

But that's exactly what is going on this week in the first world amateur team championship for the Eisenhower Cup. Only one of the 114 competitors had broken the course's 72 par as the tournament went into its final round today.

He was Australia's Peter Toogood, who went around the 6,936-yard seaside links in 71 Friday. Only three competitors have scored a 72—Scotland's Reid Jack, who did it amid abandoned cheers from his teammates Wednesday; Ed McDougall, who did it Friday to put New Zealand into a 687-690 lead over the United States and Sweden's Gunnar Carlender, who calmed down and did it Friday after scoring 82-79 on his first two rounds.

Only three men have scored 73 so far in the tournament. Only five have turned in a 74 and six a 75. These are the gloomy statistics and the big question is: Why? Reid Jack, 1957 British amateur winner, led the individual field with an aggregate 72-77-74-223. Bobb Charles, New Zealand, was one behind with 74-74-76-224. Coe was third with 74-77-76-227.

Stage Demonstration

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Some 5,000 members of Local 755, International Union of Electrical Workers, staged a demonstration outside General Motors' Delco Products Division plant here Friday to demonstrate their unity. Police said there was no violence. The union has been on strike since Oct. 2 in a dispute over seniority rights and layoff time.

Auburn, Navy Face Tests

Army - Irish, Pitt - Spartan Battles Top Games Today

By ED CORRIGAN

AP Sports Writer

The Army forgoten section as a football power?

It all depends on how you look at it. The days of a dozen or more schools in the area fielding top teams probably are gone.

But qualitatively, the East still can put out some mighty impressive clubs and after today's action, they could be even more impressive.

All three teams that are in the running for the mythical Eastern championship—and shooting for the top of the national heap to boot—were involved in important contests.

Topping them all, of course, was the Army-Notre Dame encounter at South Bend, Ind. The other big ones were Pitt at Michigan State and Navy at Michigan.

Louisiana State, Florida and Denver opened the weekend activity with victories Friday night. LSU crushed Miami (Fla.) 41-0, Florida took UCLA 21-14 and Denver whipped Montana 29-0.

Louisiana State, a Southeastern Conference powerhouse, handed Miami its worst defeat in 14 years in their game at Miami. Don Purvis started LSU on the way to its fourth straight victory with a 51-yard touchdown run in the first period.

A long run also helped Florida to its triumph over UCLA at Los Angeles. Soph halfback Don Deal got loose for a 67-yard td gallop in the second period.

Quarterback Bob Miller sparked Denver to its Skyline Conference triumph over Montana. He scored twice.

In another Friday game Wofford beat the Citadel 18-6.

This will be the last of the Army-Notre Dame series (just two games) for the present. Always a top attraction, the series was resumed last year after an interruption of 10 years.

The word is that Notre Dame wanted to continue the series, but that Army decided to drop it. West Point officials have steadfastly declined to give the reasons for the termination.

Army is rated No. 3 in this week's Associated Press poll while Notre Dame is No. 4.

Pitt had a tough assignment in Michigan State. The Spartans would be favored anyhow, but this time they are smarting from a 12-12 draw with arch-rival Michigan last week.

Navy was untested going into its game against Michigan. Michigan, on the basis of its performance against Michigan State, was the choice.

Up at the top of the heap, Auburn, which leaped into first place last week, had a date with Kentucky, a Southeastern Conference rival. The Tigers figured to smother Kaintuck's explosive offense with their patented blanket.

Oklahoma, No. 2, and not quite as invincible as many thought in the beginning of the season, appeared ready to chop undefeated Texas up.

The NCAA's television game of the day sent Ohio State, the favorite for the Big 10 title, against Illinois. The Buckeyes were favored. Ohio State is ranked No. 5 in the nation.

Wisconsin, another pretender to the Big 10 throne—rated No. 7—played Purdue. Both clubs had 2-0 records and both were unscored on.

Mississippi, No. 7, had a Southeastern Conference game with Tulane, and Clemson, No. 8 and possibly the class of the Atlantic Coast Conference, tangled with Vanderbilt.

Gillman Signed To New Contract By Pro Rams

By JIM KENSIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

Sit tight, Walter O'Malley, Los Angeles must be mellowing. You might get that baseball stadium yet.

The unbelievable happened Friday in the one-time cemetery of pro football coaches. Sid Gillman, Los Angeles Rams coach, was signed to a new contract with 10 games still remaining in the NFL season. And the pact, terms and duration of which were not announced, is effective in 1959.

Back in 1945 Adam Walsh coached the Cleveland Rams to the NFL championship. The team then moved to LA and Walsh lasted one season. Bob Snyder likewise in 1947. Clark Shaughnessy was good for two years, Joe Stydahar two and Hamp Pool three.

Then along came Gillman in 1955. He won a division title that year, but then finished fifth in '56 and fourth last year when he was hung in effigy.

The Rams dropped their opener this year, Gillman's last in a four-year contract, but followed that three-point loss to the Cleveland Browns with a 33-3 decision over rival San Francisco.

The Rams are currently in the toughest part of their schedule. Sunday they face defending champion Detroit and are on the road again next week against the pre-season favorites, the Chicago Bears. Then follow home games with the 49ers, Lions and Bears again.

Detroit, although winless in two games,

U.S. Evangelist Challenges Religious Revival In Russia

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

"I'd like to challenge anyone who says there's a religious revival in Russia," says Tommy Hicks, a Texas-born evangelist who recently made a 32-day preaching tour of the Soviet Union.

The Rev. Mr. Hicks, who has spent the greater part of the past five years evangelizing on foreign shores, draws a bleak picture of religion outside the large Russian cities of Leningrad and Moscow.

"Back in 1955," he says, "the newspaper Pravda announced that Christianity would be dead in Russia within 10 years. From my latest observations, I'd say they don't need that long."

How are the Soviets doing it? "They're taking the children out of the church," says the Rev. Mr. Hicks. "They're luring them away by giving them an esteemed place in the nation."

"They have children's clubs and the members get to do things and go places that nonmembers do not."

The Rev. C. W. Wion will conduct devotions.

The Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:45 p. m. Evening devotions are at 7:45.

Paul Dawson, class leader, will lead the praise and prayer services Wednesday at 7:45 p. m. Adult Choir practice will be held Thursday at 7 p. m. and Junior Choir Thursday at 6:30.

get to do. If a boy or girl is a Christian he or she is ruled out of membership."

The Rev. Mr. Hicks preached at 23 services during his tour. Arrangements were made through local pastors. The evangelist says he does not know precisely how the pastors obtained permission.

"I preached as simply as I could," he says, "mostly from John 3:16 - 'For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.'"

He preached through interpreters. "The only time I was sure I was getting a good interpretation was when I had a Christian interpreter. Some were atheists and some just had no comprehension of Christian phrases."

"Churches are tolerated in Moscow and Leningrad," he says, "but it seems to be only a show for tourists. In the smaller cities, church attendance is small and quiet. They don't want to attract attention."

at 8. The Session will meet Tuesday night at 7.

The Senior Choir will rehearse Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. It is starting rehearsals for the Christmas cantata, "The Story of Christmas." William Thomas is director.

Area Methodist Conference Held On 18-30 Group

A number of East Liverpool area Methodist Churches were expected to send representatives to the North-East Ohio Methodist conference-wide "18-30" rally in the Main St. Methodist Church in Akron today to set up program helps for persons between 18 and 30 years of age in the congregations.

The theme for the day is "The 18-30 Program in the Local Church."

For several years the conference has been stressing the importance of persons in the local church who are 18 to 30 - single, married, working and students. The meeting will give program helps to local classes, fellowship groups and clubs in the areas of study, worship, recreation, church loyalty, social action, creative arts and missions.

The Rev. Allen J. Moore of the General Board of Education of the Methodist Church at Nashville is the resource leader of the day. He works with this age group across the nation. Other leaders include William Miller of Cambridge, in the area of recreation and creative arts; Dr. Wray Stickford at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, evangelism and church loyalty; Miss Lois Burger of Doylestown, study, and others. The Rev. Richard Jameson of Brimfield, Ohio, is working with a special committee for a visual presentation of what has been happening in this age group throughout the conference. Miss Janet Kole of Berea, is working on a dramatic service of worship.

The day was planned by the conference's 18-30 Council. Miss Louise Onyett of Newton Falls, a student at Mt. Union

What Is Reasonable Service?

Most of us find ourselves in positions of service and direct responsibility to someone else.

The employee works for an immediate boss. His boss has a superior who usually has a boss. The big boss is responsible to a board of directors, and the board of directors, collectively, has many bosses — the stockholders and owners.

So, virtually everyone has a boss and is expected to perform some kind of service for the benefit of others. In our competitive economy, we think even of the customer as being the boss.

THIS CONCEPT carries through almost every phase of life. Not only do we find it in daily occupations and jobs, but it is inherent in our family responsibilities and civic duties.

The housewife serves the members of her family and Dad is looked to for their support. The office holder is in his position to serve those who elect him, and the voters are his bosses. They, too, are duty-bound to be good citizens.

Human society as a whole stands or falls on this principle—each one of us facing up to and performing a service for the benefit of someone else accepting the responsibility that goes with that service.

THE QUESTION is, how much service should we give, how responsible should we be? What is reasonable or fair to give or expect?

Apparently there are almost as many different answers on this as there are people. One person will succeed on a job where another fails under exactly the same set of working conditions.

But research studies show that far more often than not it is the degree of willingness to serve and perform, not skill or ability, that makes the difference.

One family prospers in its home life while another flounders in spite of equal advantages. One community is a good place to live, another isn't, depending on the alertness of the citizenry.

In both cases, the same type of people are involved. Here again, we find it is willingness to give a reasonable service that makes the difference.

THE APOSTLE PAUL had something to say about reasonable service, and what he said fits in directly with our duties and responsibilities throughout all of life.

Paul was talking about our service to God. He said we should present ourselves to God, the whole of our lives, as a living sacrifice. He called this "a reasonable service."

By sacrifice, Paul did not mean martyrdom or death. Rather, it is a living sacrifice we are to make, a denial or giving up of certain things, the taking on of certain burdens in order to lighten more severe burdens.

Isn't this true of just about everything we do?

If we make the sacrifice of giving reasonable service to our jobs we save ourselves a heavier burden. If we accept our responsibilities as parents from the beginning we avoid more serious responsibilities later on. If we perform as good citizens every day we escape the problems that come with indifference.

Over-all, if we meet our obligations day to day to the Big Boss, and serve and worship Him according to Paul's specifications, we find our own services, in all that we do, to be most reasonable, and no sacrifice at all compared to the sacrifice they might be.

Valley Oratorio Group Will Give Weirton Concert

The Valley Oratorio Singers, a group of church vocalists from the Tri-State area, will present the oratorio, "The Holy City" (Gaul) at 8 p. m. Sunday — 12 at the First Methodist Church of Weirton.

The program will be sponsored by the Weirton Council of Churches. The group has been presenting religious music in area churches for several years. Members are soloists in their own choirs. The director is Mrs. Lois Anderson Clark of Beaver, a contralto soloist and voice teacher.

Other members are: Ethelberta Shaw, choir director at the First Methodist Church of New Cumberland; Virginia Rigby and Martha Carpenter of Chester; Ruth Wakefield, Ernest A. Lowe, Alton C. West, Carl Warming and Evelyn S. Vordrey of East Liverpool; Edwin P. Ewing, Donald Y. Clark, Roger Wagner, Marie H. Beaver and Gayle Barley of Beaver; N. R. Fletcher and Phyllis R. McKenzie of Beaver Falls; Richard W. Lalley of East Palestine; Eileen B. Brown and Dolly Bonnell of Glenmoor; Nathaniel Vaughan and Harold B. Fleming of Aliquippa; June Thornburg of Leesdale and Jack Pennycook and Donna Hoffman of Freedom.

Organists are Bernadine Cunningham of East Liverpool and Ralph Falconer of Wellsville.

Raps Unemployment

CLEVELAND (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic nominee for governor, says the unemployment situation is bad in Ohio. He adds: "I keep reading about everything being better, but I don't see it." DiSalle made his remarks Friday night at a reception for Greater Cleveland Democratic mayors.

Orchard Grove Church Sets Retreat At Camp Aldersgate

The Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church will hold a retreat Sunday afternoon at Camp Aldersgate near Carrollton.

The retreat will begin at 3:30 and close at 7:30. Mrs. David Skeen, wife of a former pastor, will lead the retreat.

The MYF and the four commissions will meet separately at the evening session.

Robert Davis, a seminary student in Dayton, will be the speaker at the morning church worship. The Cherub Choir will sing "Father, Lead Me, Day By Day."

Mrs. John Hayes, organist, will play "Prayer" as the prelude and

"Chorus In A Minor" as the postlude.

The Official Board will meet Monday at 8 p. m. The Finance Commission will meet at 7 and the Trustees at 7:30.

Special services will be held each night Wednesday through Friday at the church with Miss Homie Clark, deaconess in the North East Ohio Conference, as speaker.

Special music will be provided by the Sanctuary Choir on Wednesday night, the Rev. and Mrs. Gail McQueen on Thursday night and the Junior Choir on Friday night.

New Pastor To Give Sermon At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — The Rev. Daniel J. Davis, new pastor of the Church of Christ, will present his first sermon Sunday morning at 9:45, speaking on "That I May Know Him."

Rev. Davis, who succeeds the Rev. L. W. Bain who went to Canton, came from Montzuma, where he served for two years. He was graduated in 1957 from the Cincinnati Bible Seminary and was ordained in 1955 at the Second Church of Christ at East Liverpool.

He is married and has a daughter.

Youth-For-Christ Unit To Hold 'Singspiration'

The Tri-State Youth-For-Christ organization will begin monthly "singspiration" programs tonight at 7:45 at the Achor Baptist Church in Negley.

Youth-for-Christ was organized several years ago by a group of men who believe that America's hope for the future lies in the youth, who should be won to Christ, according to the Rev. T. E. Ullman, pastor of the host church. He explained that the organization is nondenominational.

Australians are more devoted to sports and develop a greater array of champions than any other nation, in ratio to population.

Ex-Chester Resident Will Conduct Revivals

The Rev. Stanley Pugh of Minerva, former Chester resident, will be the evangelist at a revival series Sunday through Oct. 26 at the First Free Methodist Church.

Rev. Pugh is the former pastor of the Oakland Free Methodist Church and is the father of Dr. David Pugh of Chester.

He will preach each night at 7:30. There will be special singing.

The Rev. L. A. Tomb, pastor, will speak on "Perfect Peace?" at the 10:45 a. m. worship. Church School will begin at 9:30.

The youth service will start at 7, followed by the evangelistic service with the topic, "Help Thou My Unbelief."

Mass Will Conclude With Pontifical Rites

Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor of Midland's Presentation Catholic Church, said today a Mass will be held Monday at 11 a. m. to coincide with the Solemn Pontifical Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Pittsburgh and the Mass at Rome for Pope Pius XII.

Dedication of the new addition to the Presentation Parochial School will be held Sunday at 5 p. m. Msgr. Thomas J. Quigley, pastor of the St. Canice church in Pittsburgh, and former superintendent of the Pittsburgh Diocese schools, will give the dedication sermon.

Msgr. Vincent J. Rieland, Beaver County parish dean and pastor of St. Mary's church in Beaver Falls, will give the dedication sermon. The new addition was opened in September.

Lutheran Church Men To Take Part In Rally

Men of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church will participate in the annual fall rally of the Beaver-Ohio Valley Lutheran Men's Association Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Trinity church in New Brighton.

Election of officers will be held and plans completed for the annual mass reformation service Oct. 26 at 7:45 p. m. at the Grace church in Rochester.

The Rev. James N. Frank, pastor of the host church, will be the speaker.

Calvary Methodists To Hold New Parsonage Dedication

The new parsonage of the Calvary Methodist Church at 1501 Smithfield St. will be dedicated at a service Sunday at 3 p. m.

The Rev. Paul Ward, Steubenville District superintendent, will be a guest. Transportation will be provided at 2 and 3 p. m. from the church.

No evening worship will be held but "open house" will be observed at the parsonage by the Rev. and Mrs. Carl G. Beighley.

Members of the parsonage committee are Mrs. Mildred Sauerbrei, Mrs. Jean Grafton, Mrs. Eleanor Sheppard, Mrs. Beth Steiner, Mrs. Ruth Neville and Mrs. Virginia Stockdale.

Rev. Beighley will preach on "The Baptism of the Spirit" at the 10:45 a. m. service. The prelude will be "Communion" with "Meditation" as the offertory and "Triumphal March" the postlude.

The Adult Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m. with the topic, "The Near East." The Intermediate MYF will meet at 6 when plans will be made for a Halloween party Oct. 25. The Senior MYF will join with other area Methodist youths in a meeting at the First church at 5:30 p. m.

The Methodist Men will meet Monday night at the church. The Commission on Education will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Wilford Padgett on W. 8th St.

160 Attend Dinner

On Church Anniversary

Some 160 attended the 120th anniversary and dedication dinner of the First Christian Church at Wellsville Thursday night at which Air Force Maj. Gen. Clyde H. Mitchell of New York was principal speaker. He is a former Wellsville resident and a member of the church.

William M. Crawford, chairman of the Church Board, gave a history of the church and the contributions of those who aided its growth.

Miss Virginia Rigby sang, "I Will Lift My Eyes" (Eville), accompanied by Ralph Falconer, organist.

Tom Price, anniversary chairman, was toastmaster.

The Rev. Charles Russell led the singing and gave recognition to all new members from July 1, 1957, through June 30.

John R. Ralston, elder emeritus, gave the benediction. Charles Stewart gave the anniversary prayer.

Moon Rocket Fired By U.S.

World's First Lunar Probe Out In Space

on around or pass the moon, it may take about five days to gather the scanning data sufficiently to provide a crude picture of the moon.

Scientists at the news conference also disclosed that if their calculations are right the moon will pass directly above Hawaii 2½ days after launching, so that a powerful radio station there could send the signals to ignite a small terminal rocket that could put the probe into an orbit around the moon.

However, they said, if the moon is more nearly over Florida at that particular time, the terminal stage rocket will be fired from Cape Canaveral.

Bennett said they expect to know within a day which of the two stations will be called upon to give the probe its final shot.

Bennett also said that the probe went through an extensive chemical decontamination process and was handled with caution exceeding that observed in surgical operation rooms, in some cases.

He said this was done because of "some concern that there was reason to keep any earth made living organisms from the moon in order to get a better idea of what truly exists there when people arrive."

Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, director of the missile test center, after the jubilant reports of the successful launching, said all additional information will come in Defense Department announcements about every six hours.

The Defense Department described as "perhaps the most important piece of equipment" a "Doppler Command Receiver." This instrument will fire the blast designed to send the satellite around the moon.

Sticking up from the top of "Pioneer," the department said, is a two-eared telemetry antenna to beam the satellite's discoveries to five principal tracking stations around the earth.

At these stations information will be taped and transmitted for analysis at Englewood, Calif.

"If America's modern, 20th Century 'Pioneer' carries out its job," the Defense Department said, "the world will have through the IGY, an intimate peek at the moon. . . The initial step to man's conquest of space."

This momentous achievement by the United States came a little more than a year after the Russians started the world by sending aloft the world's first earth satellites. This country since has sent up four satellites of its own, before today's moon rocket firing by the Air Force.

There was no indication that the Russians have been able to fire a moon rocket yet.

Word of the thrust into space was greeted with loud cheers from the more than 100 newsmen witnessing the launching.

The Air Force promptly christened its world's first lunar probe the Pioneer.

Today's firing followed an earlier moon rocket which exploded Aug. 17 just 77 seconds after leaving the launching pad.

This rocket performed as hoped for.

The Air Force announcement said that after the first 60 minutes of flight into outer space, signals from the payload indicated that Pioneer was proceeding on course at approximately the planned velocity.

The official announcement said: "The Department of Defense gave the name 'Pioneer' today to the payload of the successfully launched U.S. lunar probe rocket, the first man-made object known to escape the earth's gravitational field."

"After the first 60 minutes of flight into outer space, signals received from the highly instrumented payload indicate that the Pioneer is proceeding on course at approximately the planned velocity."

"Interpretation of data received is proceeding on schedule. However, it must be emphasized that there exists many difficulties and time lags in its analysis."

"The data when received is transmitted to the National Academy of Sciences International Geophysical Year Committee for transmission to IGY participants in accordance with IGY procedures."

"Pioneer . . . joined the other U.S. satellite successes, Explorer I, III and IV, launched by the Army, and the Navy-launched Vanguard."

The missile thundered aloft at 4:42 a.m. DST, exactly on schedule.

It was the first of the many space vehicle launchings to achieve that degree of promptness.

The mighty first-stage engine, pouring out 150,000 pounds of thrust, burned brilliantly through a star-filled sky for 2½ minutes.

The progress of the 88-foot, three-stage missile could be plainly followed.

Watchers from the missile test center here tracked its course through the clear sky and saw the flare of the second stage.

The missile's fading light could be followed only a few seconds longer.

By the time the third stage ig-

Director Commends Officers

Police Given Course Certificates

Nineteen patrolmen who completed a week-long class in police work were presented certificates Friday afternoon by Mayor or Fred P. Lawrence and Safety-Service Director Dan Maggiani.

The first officer to get a certificate, Patrolman Edwin Furgason, is shown with the mayor, at left, and the director, who is making the presentation. Chief A. J. Radeschi looks on.

"You did remarkably well on the exam," the director told the group. "I want to congratulate late all of you. Early next year we want to have an advanced course."

"This is a step forward in the development of the force," the mayor commented. "It is pretty obvious that the city is developing a real respect for the police force. There is a good future ahead."

Each man stepped forward to receive his certificate and exchange handshakes with the mayor and the director.

Others who received the certificates at the ceremony in the Council Chamber were: Paul Lemal, Charles Winters, William W. Dunn, Paul Carter, Thomas Walker, Floyd Heddleston, R. E. Higgins, Charles E. (Bill) Tice, Paul A. Burson, Kenneth Mooney, Jerry Adkins, Jack Strobel, J. C. Mason, Howard Bosworth, Samuel Hayes, Leonard Richard, Lloyd Garvey and Norman Blatchford.

Three others were unable to attend because of illness or vacations. They are Milton Fowler, Robert B. Pyle and Orin C. Smith.

nited, the lunar probe was far beyond the reach of the human eye.

But instruments aboard the vehicle reported back faithfully by radio. Ten minutes after the launching, the Air Force announced that all the stages had fired properly and that the waiting game began.

Sometime Tuesday the probe may approach within 50,000 miles of the moon and start around it to scan the far side.

Project scientists did not expect to hit the moon, some 221,000 miles away. About the best they hoped for was to get the payload within 50,000 miles of the moon, and possibly into orbit around it.

An earlier moon rocket, fired Aug. 17, blew up a little over a minute after it left the launching pad at this missile test center.

Shortly after today's moon rocket roared into a starry sky, there were reports of signals being picked up.

In Southampton, N. Y., engineers at International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. reported hearing signals at 4:45 a.m.

Another report was that a tracking station at Jodrell Bank, Manchester, England, had picked up a signal from the vehicle at 4:52 a.m.

Ten minutes after launching, the Air Force announced all stages of the rocket had fired successfully.

"The launching of the experimental lunar probe vehicle has now been accomplished," the announcement said.

It added that further information on the progress of the test would be reported as data was transmitted to the tracking stations.

A simultaneous announcement from the Defense Department in Washington said "The launching of the experimental lunar probe vehicle has now been accomplished."

At Washington, the Air Force, in direct connection with Cape Canaveral, called off the final moments of the firing. The first word at 4:42 a.m. was "main stage lift-off normal," followed by a few seconds, then, "programming normally," and then "continuing on course."

The official announcement said: "The United States launched a three-stage experimental space vehicle at the Atlantic missile range here. The terminal stage was completely disassembled and bathed thoroughly in germ killing ultraviolet radiation. Then it was reassembled by workers in surgical gowns, using tools that had been dipped in chlorophenyl."

As with the first try, the second stage of the moon rocket consisted of the 4,000-pound modified second stage of the Vanguard satellite vehicle, propelled by an Aerojet General engine. The liquid fuel and oxidizer of the engine ignite automatically on contact with each other to provide a thrust of about 7,500 pounds.

The moon rocket's 400-pound first stage was an advanced version of the Vanguard's third stage, an Allegany Ballistic Laboratory solid propellant engine developing 2,500 pounds of thrust.

The third stage was a new rocket never before flight tested. However, it has been thoroughly tested on the ground under simulated flight conditions at the Air Force wind tunnels at Tullahoma, Tenn.

Telemetry information from this lunar probe and the one additional Air Force and two additional Army moon rockets that have been authorized will be fed to a center operated by base technology laboratories at Los Angeles.

An electrical digital computer will calculate with lightning speed the position of the rocket at a given moment in relation to the earth and the moon.

The five primary tracking stations feeding data to the Los Angeles nerve center are here at Cape Canaveral, at Millstone Mountain, N. H., at Hilo and at Singapore and Manchester, England.

Tracking assistance also will be provided by Naval Research Laboratory stations at Ancon, Peru; Antigua, Leeward Islands; Antofagasta, Santiago, Chile; Catopai, Ecuador; Grand Turk, Bahamas; Johannesburg, South Africa; Havana and San Antonio, Cuba, and Woomera, Australia.

The first Air Force moon rocket attempt in August was directed by the Defense Department's space unit, the Advanced Research Projects Agency.

On Oct. 1, President Eisenhower transferred responsibility to the new civilian space agency, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

However, because NASA has not yet had time to organize its vast new programs the responsibility for today's firing rested almost wholly with the Air Force—assisted by many of the 52 scientific and industrial firms involved in lunar probe contracts.

Ohio Township Child Has Party At Hospital

Larry Newell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newell of Ohio Township, and a victim of the rare blood disease — hemophilia — was surprised with an early birthday party Thursday afternoon at Children's Hospital at Pittsburgh. The disease causes extensive bleeding from the merest scratch.

His roommates, doctors and nurses attended and presented him with gifts. He suffered two hemorrhages this week as an aftermath of an earlier fall in his home on the Fairview Rd.

Early Monday morning and again late Monday afternoon, the child was rushed to Children's Hospital for emergency treatment.

Larry, who hopes to be home for his fourth birthday Friday, spent previous birthdays in the hospital.

His father was released from City Hospital Friday afternoon after a long illness.

57 Hear Discussion Of School Financing

About 57 members of the Calcutta Mothers Club heard George VanHorne, executive head of the Beaver Local School District, discuss the district's proposed combination bond issue and levy at a meeting Wednesday at the Calcutta School.

Members will visit classes at the school Nov. 12 from 1 to 1:30 p.m.; a meeting in the cafeteria will follow until 2:30, and then private consultation with teachers will last until 3.

Urban Petros, principal, was a guest. Mrs. Kenneth Burt, president, presided.

Newell Youths Slated To Clean Raid Debris

A group of Newell students were slated to clean up tomatoes in Chester and Newell today as settlement of an agreement based on the outcome of Friday night's football contest between the schools—which Chester won 25 to 6.

The Newell youths were nabbed in Chester Thursday night after they threw tomatoes on the streets in retaliation to an earlier visit by Chester students to Newell.

Hancock County Juvenile Officer William Paolitto set the agreement by which the students from the losing school would clean the mess in both towns.

Episcopalians Sending Japs An A-Reactor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A strange and expensive "missionary"—described as packing more power than any preacher—was being readied today for service in Japan. It's an atomic reactor.

It will cost a half million dollars.

The Protestant Episcopal Church's General Convention laid plans for sending the unusual gift to the Orient, and also prepared to elect a new presiding bishop this morning.

The project to give St. Paul's University in Tokyo a nuclear reactor for "peaceful study, research and medical therapy" was cited as a means for a "powerful Christian witness in Japan."

It can "stimulate and strengthen the work of the church in the Far East with a dramatic force beyond easy understanding," a special committee, headed by Bishop Oliver J. Hart of Philadelphia, said.

In Japan, it said, people know little of atomic energy's blessings but much of its curse—including the World War II explosions on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

For the church to take "this great new force and use it for good," the report said, will show "God's concern not only for the spiritual well being but the total well being of the whole man as no other missionary effort would."

Police Search Farm Of Suspect's Father

Pennsylvania police Friday searched the farm of Frank Senk of Polk R. D. 1, in Venango County, the father of Frank Senk Jr., 26, of Ambridge, suspect in the disappearance of Rebecca Ann Triska, 15, of Baden. No clue was found.

Senk visited his parents the weekend that Miss Triska disappeared Sept. 19.

Senk was arrested Sept. 21 when his car matched the description of one in which Miss Triska was reported last seen riding following a dance in Ambridge.

Beaver County detectives, members of the Rochester and Franklin Barracks of the State Police, Baden, Harmony Township and Monaca auxiliary policemen and agents of the Pennsylvania Game Commission made the search.

Cursing Of Meter Maid Costs Tavern Man $25

A Dresden Ave. tavern operator was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court for cursing a city meter maid after she ticketed his car for an overtime violation Friday morning.

Roy Blinn drew the fine from Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp on a charge filed by Mrs. Catherine Martin, which alleged he used "indecent, profane and obscene language."

Mrs. Martin said she ticketed Blinn's car yesterday morning and he objected, claiming the meter was broken. A check showed it was operating perfectly, she said.

Mrs. Martin said she walked toward W. 9th St. and when she returned a few minutes later Blinn began to swear.

Court To Hear Motion Friday

Brokaw To Get Plea In Gambling Arrest

A motion to suppress evidence against two men facing gambling charges in connection with alleged booking of race horse bets in the Village Green tavern has been assigned for hearing Friday at 10 a.m. by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw.

The motion was filed Tuesday by counsel for Alfred Nitsche, 820 Ohio Ave., Midland, and Harry S. Pease of near Rogers, who were taken into custody by police Sept. 30. Judge Brokaw is expected to return from vacation Monday.

Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp, who substituted on the bench for two weeks, said he felt it best that Judge Brokaw hear the motion because the defendants have indicated they will seek a jury trial before him. Originally the case was set for hearing today.

The motion alleges that the evidence seized in the case was taken "under illegal search and seizure and by entrapment." The investigation that preceded the arrest was made by two agents of the enforcement division of the State Liquor Control Department.

Pease and Nitsche entered not guilty pleas when arraigned Oct. 1. They are free on $500 bonds. The evidence they seek to suppress includes horse race tickets, a $10 bill and printed forms showing entries and other data on horses at Waterford Park Race Track, according to the motion.

BPW Club Provides Certificates

Safe, Courteous Drivers Honored

Four women singled out for commendation as "safe and courteous" drivers were presented certificates by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence at City Hall Friday afternoon.

vie & Co., and Miss Mary Alice Lemal, 1450 Dresden Ave., an employee of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

The fifth recipient could not be present for the ceremony, as she was out of town on business. She is Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, 528 Elizabeth St., city health nurse. It was the third such award for Mrs. Carpenter.

Police singled out a woman for the award each day this week as part of the observance of National Businesswomen's Week arranged by the Business & Professional Women's Club. Also attending the presentation ceremony were Safety - Service Director Dan Maggiani and Police Chief A. J. Radeschi.

"Each of you is to be sincerely congratulated for your safe and courteous driving," the mayor told the group, "Courtesy is contagious. I hope your achievement will inspire other men and women."

PTA Will Hold School Fair

Salineville Group Also Will Give Party

SALINEVILLE—Plans for an indoor school fair in November were discussed at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at the high school.

Kenneth Leishman is chairman of the ways and means committee planning the fair at a date to be selected next month.

The homeroom mothers announced plans for a Halloween party to be held at the school Oct. 31. Plans were also outlined for a PTA tea to be held Nov. 13 in observance of National Education Week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith were named chairmen of a subscription sale of PTA publications. The committee includes Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Nedelkoff and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dunlap.

Plans were announced for a first grade clinic to be held Thursday morning at 9:30 at the high school with Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, and Dr. C. A. McCullough in charge. First grade mothers assisting will be Mrs. Martin Adams, Mrs. Joseph Feth, Mrs. James Roberts and Mrs. Tony Brandonisio.

Slides of the West were screened by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Yohst. The next meeting will be Nov. 13.

Johnny Green, composer of "Body and Soul" and other songs, was an economics expert in Wall Street before he found there was more money in Tin Pan Alley.

Group Named In Yule Treat

Midland PTA Also Plans Card Party

A committee for the Christmas treat for the children was named at the meeting of the 4th St. Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon in the Midland School.

Mrs. Edward Cilli, president, named Mrs. Robert Fetterman, chairman of the tree trimming committee, and Miss Karen Oberg, sixth grade teacher, and Mrs. Richard Bailey, Mrs. Harry X. Humbert and Mrs. Norman Vanlier to select the treats.

Mrs. Cilli, conducted business. Mrs. Harry Alston, secretary, opened the meeting with the reading of "Objects of the PTA." Miss Despina Gagianas, music teacher, led group singing.

The budget prepared by the executive board was approved.

Mrs. Velma Ketterer's fourth grade was awarded the attendance trophy.

Plans were made to sponsor a combined public card party and bake sale Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Midland High School music forum. Proceeds will be used towards the Midland Dental Clinic and holiday treats for the children.

Mrs. Cilli announced that instead of holding the usual PTA meeting on Nov. 13 at 3 p.m. the regular meeting date, open house will be held that evening from 7 to 9.

Mrs. Gertrude Bonzo, fifth grade teacher, gave a reading demonstration, explaining her method of teaching the children good reading procedure.

A tape recording was made of reading by several mothers and then played back for discussion.
